Local Ohio Air Guardsmen To Go to Europe

Wing Command, Support Groups Set for Transfer

Approximately thirty-nine Circleville and Pickaway County men will be among the more than 1,500 Air National Guardsmen of the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing at Lockbourne Air Force Base ordered yesterday to overseas duty effective Nov. 1.

The 121st Tactical Fighter Wing is included in a move which will place Ohio's Air National Guard wing headquarters and supporting units on duty in Europe.

Not included in the Defense Department list of units which will start eastward Nov. 1 were the 164th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Mansfield and the 162nd Tactical Fighter Squadron at Springfield. Both are part of the state's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing and have been on active duty in their home areas since Oct. 1.

Also left off the list was the state's remaining Air Guard squadron, the 112th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Toledo, part of the Indiana wing.

With the exception of the Blue Ash group, all of the units headed for Europe are presently based at Lockbourne Air Force base near Columbus.

They include:

Headquarters, 121st Tactical Fighter Wing; 166th Tactical Fighter Squadron; 121st Aircraft and Maintenance Squadron; 121st Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron; 121st Air Base Group Headquarters; 121st Supply Squadron; 121st Transportation Squadron; 121st Air Police Squadron; 121st Civil Engineer Squadron; 121st Operations Squadron; 121st Tactical Hospital and the 164th Weather Flight.

News of the move came as a surprise to the air guardsmen who have received no orders yet. The Defense Department report did not show the exact location the units will be transferred to.

They are among 10,000 air and ground troops ordered to bolster the Allied garrison between West Germany and the Communist East.

They are in addition to the 40,000 Army troops beginning to deploy abroad in the first phase of a program to increase conventional war capability against possible Red aggression. By year's end, U.S. forces in Europe will total about 300,000.

About half the 10,000 are Army men, the other half Air National Guardsmen.

The Pentagon said Wednesday that the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, with a strength of about 3,000 men, would go overseas at an early date. Another 2,000 soldiers also will be sent to handle and guard weapons and equipment being stored against the possibility that full-sized Army divisions might go later.

Eleven fighter squadrons of federalized Air National Guard units, with a total manpower of about 5,000 pilots and support personnel will start heading overseas Nov. 1.

The ground and air units will be added to five Army divisions, elements equaling another division, and 17 tactical air squadrons now in West Germany and France.

Both the ground and air units in this new augmentation are equipped and trained for conventional warfare.

WAITING — Mrs. S. E. Bartley, one of cancer-stricken House Speaker Sam Rayburn's two sisters, and John Holton (right), Rayburn's administrative assistant, confer with Dr. Robert Short, the speaker's attending physician, at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas, Tex.

Cancer Plus Pneumonia Keeps Sam Rayburn Critically Ill

DALLAS (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn ill with incurable cancer and suffering from pneumonia, appeared improved today after being unconscious much of Wednesday.

The condition of the 69-year-old political leader and lawmaker worsened Wednesday after he contracted pneumonia. He regained consciousness during the afternoon.

A mid-morning bulletin on Rayburn issued today by Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., his attending physician, said:

"Mr. Rayburn is out of coma. He is definitely improved and the major change occurred this morning. He looks and appears stronger. He is breathing and recognizes family and associates. His temperature is normal. Pulse, blood pressure and respiration have remained unchanged since the change for the better."

Rayburn's temperature rose to 103 degrees Wednesday.

At that time, Dr. Short said the pneumonia was not caused by use of an anticancer drug, which may prolong his life but effect no cure. The anticancer treatment was suspended because of the pneumonia.

Dr. Short said Rayburn was put on the critical list because of pneumonia and no, from any worsening of the cancer.

"Pneumonia is something that can be cured," he added.

The doctor said the pneumonia developed Tuesday afternoon and that Rayburn lapsed into unconsciousness during the night.

The "positive pressure" that the doctor referred to utilizes a machine to force air into Rayburn's lungs, relieving the heart of added work. Dr. Short said Rayburn also is being given oxygen and that he is being fed intravenously.

Rayburn entered the hospital 10 days ago, saying he was suffering from back pains caused by lumbago. Tests showed that he had been stricken with incurable cancer.

Huffer had requested a formal opinion from the attorney general after the question was raised by Berger Hospital officials.

"The question basically involves whether a hospital can go beyond a person unwilling to pay and ask payment from a governmental agency," Huffer said.

He had asked the attorney general if the county could be held liable for hospital bills of a person brought to the hospital for treatment by the sheriff after an accident.

HUFFER SAID the question involved no specific incident, but was raised as a matter of general policy. Sheriff Walton W. Spangler commented a "surprising number" of persons taken to the local hospital by his department after auto accidents neglected to make payment.

McElroy ruled the commissioners held only authority granted by statute for expending public funds to pay hospital bills.

Chico Marx Dies At Age of 70

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leonard Marx, a tailor's son who wanted to be a businessman but instead became Chico of the Marx brothers comedy team, is dead at 70.

Chico, oldest member of the impossibly irreverent brothers whose vaudeville and movie fans included low-brows and intellectuals alike, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. He had been ill for several months.

Chico and brothers, Groucho (Julius), Harpo (Arthur), Zeppo (Herbert) and Gummo (Milton) transformed low comedy into high art for three decades—with their special brand of winks, whistles and wisecracks.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Here's a recipe for baked telephone:

Take one young husband on his way to work, and one white phone, mix in a little consideration for a wife who had been up with the baby all night.

Frank Fraser didn't want the phone to bother his wife, Babette, so he put it in the oven before leaving for work. Later, Mrs. Fraser turned on the oven to pre-heat it. When she started to put in a dish, she discovered one melted telephone.

Fund Campaign Inches Upward; 90 Pct. Reached

The Pickaway County Community Fund this week inched to within 90 per cent of its goal.

Latest returns show collections of approximately $29,200. The goal for 1961 is $32,445, an indication that strong final efforts will be needed to go over the top.

The campaign was aided again this week as it has been in the past several days when three more offices and firms reported 100 per cent employee contributions. Joining the honor roll were the Pickaway County Welfare Department, the A & P Supermarket and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

James B. Carr, campaign chairman, said special groups and the industrial division have completed their phase of the Fund drive. Richard Davis headed special groups and Ed Jankura the industrial.

CITY residential, business and county divisions are still incomplete, Carr said. He urged all citizens to check on solicitations and points missed on first calls.

Fund headquarters at the American Hotel has closed, but returns are still being accepted at the hotel desk. Contributions also may be mailed, care of postoffice Box 55.

The Community Fund's Anticipated goal of $32,445 will be used to support six agencies here. Gaining vital support are the local Red Cross Chapter, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, the Youth Canteen and the Well-Child Clinic.

All have provided important services here in the past as evidenced by compiled statistics. Reaching or passing the expected goal will insure another year of sound operations.

Crowd Silent As Suspect Whips Cop

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland policeman received a pistol whipping from a man he was trying to arrest while a crowd stood 10 feet away and watched.

Patrolman Robert Tonne said he was trying to arrest a man on suspicion of robbery. He said he felt a bulge under the man's coat, and finding it was a gun he pulled his service revolver.

Tonne said the man struggled for his revolver. Then the suspect pulled his own gun and pistol-whipped Tonne with it.

The patrolman said between 50 and 70 persons stood within 10 feet of the struggling men. Although he appealed for aid, no one helped him. Another patrolman, relating the incident later, said the group reacted as it would at a sports event.

Tonne said he finally broke away from the man and called for help over his motorcycle radio.

The assailant and a companion escaped.

Soviet Communist Congress To Face Raft of Troubles at Annual Parley

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst

The Soviet Communist party opens its 22nd congress Tuesday. Intensive propaganda promises it will mark the beginning of a march to Communist world supremacy.

To dramatize Communist prospects, the Kremlin may even time a new spectacular space shot for the congress opening.

Despite the showmanship, there are in the background suspicious signs of nervous strain in Soviet party and world Communist ranks.

Premier Khrushchev, first secretary and party chief, promises the congress will be a turning point. It will consider a 20-year program to build the "base" of communism. Theoretically, the U.S.S.R. has built "socialism." Communism, implying promise of abundance is many years away.

Party congresses in their 63 years of history often have been billed as momentous turning points. Many have cloaked internal struggles. In recent years congresses provided—as the 22nd will—platforms to consider problems and strategy.

What is the party congress? The congress supposedly is the party's ruling body, to which the central committee and its direct-presidium are responsible. Required to meet once every three years, it is made up of functionaries from major political subdivisions of the U.S.S.R. It is supposed to hear and pass on programs of the central committee and party presidium, amend programs and statutes, fix tactical lines on fundamental policy questions and elect various party leaders.

Actually it does none of this, instead merely applies the automatic stamp of approval. The congress is window-dressing for a claim to democracy. Under Stalin the dictator's hand-picked politburo was the law. Under Khrushchev, the key body appears to be the central committee, where his own political machine has been strong enough to outmaneuver his enemies in the past.

The 20th congress in 1956 rocked world communism. Khrushchev, by then clearly the boss, denounced the dead Stalin as a murderer and egomaniac.

Early in 1959, with a Berlin crisis fading away, the 21st congress ostensibly was concerned with approving a seven-year economic plan. Actually it cloaked a world strategy meeting. By then the problem of the balky Red Chinese was much in evidence. Despite Chinese resistance, the congress was forerunner of the intense peace offensive that brought Khrushchev to the United States

South Africa May Quit U.N.

Nation Censured For Policy Speech

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Stung by an unprecedented censure from the General Assembly, South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw today awaited instructions from his government amid new speculation the republic may quit the United Nations.

Louw angrily charged that the censure of his policy speech by an overwhelming vote of 67-1 was part of a prearranged campaign by African nations to smear his government.

"We had been forewarned this would happen," Louw declared after a parade of African delegates denounced his speech as insulting to their governments and the African people.

African delegates were infuriated by Louw's charge that many of the African governments were attacking his government to divert attention from appalling economic conditions and illiteracy in their own countries. The Africans also resented his announcement that South Africa would continue its policy of apartheid—strict race segregation—despite the U.N.'s disapproval.

High Court Studies State School Curbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A case testing the right of the state to set up quotas on admissions to the industrial schools in Lancaster and Delaware got under way Wednesday in the Ohio Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weyand issued an alternative writ of mandamus requiring Mental Hygiene Director Robert A. Haines to admit a 16-year-old Cincinnati youth to the Boys Industrial School or, by Oct. 25, say why he should not be compelled to do so.

Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz brought his suit after Haines said an Aug. 15 freeze on admissions to the industrial schools prevented acceptance of the youth.

Asst. County Prosecutor R. O. Lilley obtained the alternative writ at an informal conference with the chief justice over objections of Theodore R. Saker, first assistant attorney general who represented Haines.

Saker contended statutes created in the department of mental health and correction specifically provide discretion for admitting and discharging inmates of the two schools. He said the freeze, recently lifted at the girls' school near Delaware, was made to relieve overcrowding.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle ordered the freeze.

At the time of the freeze, a quota system was established, whereby counties could commit juvenile delinquents on the basis of population and other factors as industrial school vacancies permitted.

No Early Halt In Tension Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sees no easy or early halt to East-West collisions which have pushed mankind to, as he views it, the gravest danger point in all history.

"There still are very major differences," he says, between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

The talks he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the last few weeks have failed to produce immediate hope of achieving agreement on Berlin Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war which destroys and doesn't really represent a victory for policy," Kennedy said. He added that Americans are rightfully concerned in this age of annihilating weapons because: "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race."

Other areas of conflict exist outside Germany, he said—and announced he is dispatching Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor for an on-scene survey of South Viet Nam.

Taylor, the President's military adviser, leaves Sunday and will meet with Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and U.S. officials to discuss ways of helping South Viet Nam cope with expanding Communist attacks.

Taylor also may visit Laos and Cambodia.

A crowd of 396 newsmen and visitors attended the news conference, which also could be seen

260 Primitive Islanders Near Civilization

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The entire population of volcano-stricken Tristan da Cunha sailed sadly toward the 20th century today.

The Dutch liner Tsaidane Wednesday night rescued the 260 men, women and children who had fled the island for refuge on nearby Nightingale Island, an uninhabited rock, after Tristan was shaken by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.

The liner is expected at Cape Town Tuesday.

The Tristanians wept on bidding farewell to their primitive homeland in the South Atlantic where they have lived an 18th century existence virtually cut off from the rest of the world.

An official of the British Embassy in Pretoria is flying here to arrange for the transportation of the islanders to England. Only about a dozen of the islanders had ever left Tristan before; the rest have never seen a train, automobile or town.

Officials said it would not be safe for anyone to touch foot on the island until at least 10 days after the eruptions end.

There was some doubt whether the 42-square mile island—covered mostly by a 7,640-foot volcano—ever would be habitable again.

Associated Press leased wire for state, national and world news, Central Press picture service, leading columnists and artists, full local news coverage.

Russia Warns Against Action

'Serious Consequences' Are Seen by Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today the United States is planning an aggressive invasion of South Viet Nam and said this would lead to serious consequences in Southeast Asia.

A special commentary on Radio Moscow claimed the aim of alleged American troop movements was two-pronged—to shore up the regime of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and to frighten neighboring Laos away from its neutrality.

The commentary, obviously representing the views of the Soviet government but without the force of an official note, was read by Andrei Baturin. He is a well-known radio spokesman on matters of Soviet foreign policy.

At Chapel Hill, N.C., where President Kennedy flew today to receive an honorary degree, press secretary Pierre Salinger said there will be no White House comment on the radio broadcast.

President Kennedy told a news conference Wednesday he was awaiting an on-the-spot report from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor before deciding whether there was sufficient Communist intervention in South Viet Nam to justify the dispatch of American or Southeast Asia Treaty Organization forces. He said there was considerable evidence guerrilla fighters in South Viet Nam were coming from beyond its borders.

Radio Moscow charged: "Evidently Washington, before the eyes of the world, has decided to trample on the Geneva agreement about Indochina which prohibits sending foreign troops to South Viet Nam. Such American action in Southeast Asia can seriously complicate the situation in (Continued on Page 2)

Exodus Away From Hoffa Is Predicted

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs forecast today a substantial membership exodus from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union now that the federation has hung out a welcome sign.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he was already busy processing affiliation applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 24 to 2 Wednesday to authorize Meany to issue charters to locals defecting from Hoffa's rule. Federation officials said they have no idea how many Teamsters may thus decide to switch allegiance, but expect a sizable number.

Hoffa can be relied upon to fight back. He has said he will meet head-on any AFL-CIO threat to his union and is confident that "we'll come out on top."

Meany declined to speculate to newsmen whether the open bid for a Teamsters rebellion will result in a labor war.

"We don't go in for headbusting," Meany said. "You'll have to ask Mr. Hoffa about that."

Hoffa said in Detroit Wednesday night that he will sue Meany for $1 million on grounds of slander and libel. The Teamsters chief said the suit will be filed in U.S. District Court in Detroit next Monday.

Hoffa said he plans the court action because he wants to force Meany to try to prove his charges of corruption in the Teamsters Union.

Columbia Chief Fights Attack by Extremists

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Alberto Lleras Camargo declared Wednesday night that the government was under attack by "extremist forces" and proclaimed a state of siege throughout the nation.

The president termed the break another effort to disrupt the presidential election next year.

Locals Hold Key To Ford Peace

Union, Company OK New 3-Year Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Individual problems at 25 local bargaining units held the key today to resumption by Ford Motor Co. following the agreement Wednesday night with the United Auto Workers Union on a new three-year national labor contract.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would recommend to the union's Ford National Council this afternoon that the settlement be approved and a nationwide strike which began 10 days ago be ended.

However, strikes will continue at the 25 local units which have unresolved problems, pending a review of all issues by the international executive board tonight.

Reuther said locals with "legitimate specific problems" will be authorized by the board to continue to strike. But he expressed hope such problems would be resolved in time to permit the company to return to production by Monday.

"We'd like to get the men back to work as soon as possible," said Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations who led the Ford bargaining team. "Monday would be fine with us."

The two sides agreed to the economic sections of the contract just prior to the strike Oct. 3. The walkout came over the non-wage sections with production standards, union representation, outside contracting and the Ford steel plant proving the major stumbling blocks.

The contract closely matches the General Motors settlement of last month.

Among other things it provides: An annual improvement factor wage increase of six cents hourly or 2½ per cent for each of the three years; continuation of the cost of living allowance with 12 cents of the present 17 cent allowance added to the base wage; fully paid hospital medical insurance; an increase in minimum supplemental unemployment benefits and an extension of such payments from 26 to 52 weeks; improvements in pensions and insurance and payments for short work weeks.

The Community Fund's Anticipated goal of $32,445 will be used to support six agencies here. Gaining vital support are the local Red Cross Chapter, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, the Youth Canine and the Well-Child Clinic.

All have provided important services here in the past as evidenced by compiled statistics. Reaching or passing the expected goal will insure another year of sound operations.

Crowd Silent As Suspect Whips Cop

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland policeman received a pistol whipping from a man he was trying to arrest while a crowd stood 10 feet away and watched.

Patrolman Robert Tonne said he was trying to arrest a man on suspicion of robbery. He said he felt a bulge under the man's coat, and finding it was a gun he pulled his service revolver.

Tonne said the man struggled for his revolver. Then the suspect pulled his own gun and pistol-whipped Tonne with it.

The patrolman said between 50 and 70 persons stood within 10 feet of the struggling men. Although he appealed for aid, no one helped him. Another patrolman, relating the incident later, said the group reacted as it would at a sports event.

Tonne said he finally broke away from the man and called for help over his motorcycle radio.

The assailant and a companion escaped.

Soviet Communist Congress To Face Raft of Troubles at Annual Parley

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst

The Soviet Communist party opens its 22nd congress Tuesday. Intensive propaganda promises it will mark the beginning of a march to Communist world supremacy. To dramatize Communist prospects, the Kremlin may even time a new spectacular space shot for the congress opening.

Despite the showmanship, there are in the background suspicious signs of nervous strain in Soviet party and world Communist ranks.

Premier Khrushchev, first secretary and party chief, promises the congress will be a turning point. It will consider a 20-year program to build the "base" of communism. Theoretically, the U.S.S.R. has built "socialism." Communism, implying promise of abundance is many years away. Party congresses in their 63 years of history often have been billed as momentous turning points. Many have cloaked internal struggles. In recent years congresses provided—as the 22nd will—platforms to consider problems and strategy.

What is the party congress? The congress supposedly is the party's ruling body, to which the central committee and its directing presidium are responsible. Required to meet once every three years, it is made up of functionaries from major political subdivisions of the U.S.S.R. It is supposed to hear and pass on programs of the central committee and party presidium, amend programs and statutes, fix tactical lines on fundamental policy questions and elect various party leaders.

Actually it does none of this, instead merely applies the automatic stamp of approval. The congress is window-dressing for a claim to democracy. Under Stalin the dictator's hand-picked politburo was the law. Under Khrushchev, the key body appears to be the central committee, where his own political machine has been strong enough to outmaneuver his enemies in the past.

The 20th congress in 1956 rocked world communism. Khrushchev, by then clearly the boss, denounced the dead Stalin as a murderer and egomaniac.

Early in 1959, with a Berlin crisis fading away, the 21st congress ostensibly was concerned with approving a seven-year economic plan. Actually it cloaked a world strategy meeting. By then the problem of the balky Red Chinese was much in evidence. Despite Chinese resistance, the congress was forerunner of the intense peace offensive that brought Khrushchev to the United States

South Africa May Quit U.N.

Nation Censured For Policy Speech

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Stung by an unprecedented censure from the General Assembly, South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw today awaited instructions from his government amid new speculation the republic may quit the United Nations.

Louw angrily charged that the censure of his policy speech by an overwhelming vote of 67-1 was part of a prearranged campaign by African nations to smear his government.

"We had been forewarned this would happen," Louw declared after a parade of African delegates denounced his speech as insulting to their governments and the African people.

African delegates were infuriated by Louw's charge that many of the African governments were attacking his government to divert attention from appalling economic conditions and illiteracy in their own countries. The Africans also resented his announcement that South Africa would continue its policy of apartheid—strict race segregation—despite the U.N.'s disapproval.

High Court Studies State School Curbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A case testing the right of the state to set up quotas on admissions to the industrial schools in Lancaster and Delaware got under way Wednesday in the Ohio Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weyand issued an alternative writ of mandamus requiring Mental Hygiene Director Robert A. Haines to admit a 16-year-old Cincinnati youth to the Boys Industrial School or, by Oct. 25, say why he should not be compelled to do so.

Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz brought his suit after Haines said an Aug. 15 freeze on admissions to the industrial schools prevented acceptance of the youth.

Asst. County Prosecutor R. O. Lilley obtained the alternative writ at an informal conference with the chief justice over objections of Theodore R. Saker, first assistant attorney general who represented Haines.

Saker contended statutes created in the department of mental health and correction specifically provide discretion for admitting and discharging inmates of the two schools. He said the freeze, recently lifted at the girls' school near Delaware, was made to relieve overcrowding.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle ordered the freeze.

At the time of the freeze, a quota system was established, whereby counties could commit juvenile delinquents on the basis of population and other factors as industrial school vacancies permitted.

No Early Halt In Tension Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sees no easy or early halt to East-West collisions which have pushed mankind to, as he views it, the gravest danger point in all history.

"There still are very major differences," he says, between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

The talks he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the last few weeks have failed to produce immediate hope of achieving agreement on Berlin Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war which destroys and doesn't really represent a victory for policy," Kennedy said. He added that Americans are rightfully concerned in this age of annihilating weapons because: "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race."

Other areas of conflict exist outside Germany, he said—and announced he is dispatching Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor for an on-scene survey of South Viet Nam.

Taylor, the President's military adviser, leaves Sunday and will meet with Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and U.S. officials to discuss ways of helping South Viet Nam cope with expanding Communist attacks.

Taylor also may visit Laos and Cambodia.

A crowd of 396 newsmen and visitors attended the news conference, which also could be seen

260 Primitive Islanders Near Civilization

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The entire population of volcano-stricken Tristan da Cunha sailed sadly toward the 20th century today.

The Dutch liner Tisadane Wednesday night rescued the 260 men, women and children who had fled the island for refuge on nearby Nightingale Island, an uninhabited rock, after Tristan was shaken by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.

The liner is expected at Cape Town Tuesday.

The Tristanians wept on bidding farewell to their primitive homeland in the South Atlantic where they have lived an 18th century existence virtually cut off from the rest of the world.

An official of the British Embassy in Pretoria is flying here to arrange for the transportation of the islanders to England. Only about a dozen of the islanders had ever left Tristan before; the rest have never seen a train, automobile or town.

Officials said it would not be safe for anyone to touch foot on the island until at least 10 days after the eruptions end.

There was some doubt whether the 42-square mile island—covered mostly by a 7,640-foot volcano—ever would be habitable again.

Associated Press leased wire for state, national and world news, Central Press picture service, leading columnists and artists, full local news coverage.

Russia Warns Against Action

'Serious Consequences' Are Seen by Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today the United States is planning an aggressive invasion of South Viet Nam and said this would lead to serious consequences in Southeast Asia.

A special commentary on Radio Moscow claimed the aim of alleged American troop movements was two-pronged—to shore up the regime of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and to frighten neighboring Laos away from its neutrality.

The commentary, obviously representing the views of the Soviet government but without the force of an official note, was read by Andrei Baturin. He is a well-known radio spokesman on matters of Soviet foreign policy.

At Chapel Hill, N.C., where President Kennedy flew today to receive an honorary degree, press secretary Pierre Salinger said there will be no White House comment on the radio broadcast.

President Kennedy told a news conference Wednesday he was awaiting an on-the-spot report from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor before deciding whether there was sufficient Communist intervention in South Viet Nam to justify the dispatch of American or Southeast Asia Treaty Organization forces. He said there was considerable evidence guerrilla fighters in South Viet Nam were coming from beyond its borders.

Radio Moscow charged: "Evidently Washington, before the eyes of the world, has decided to trample on the Geneva agreement about Indochina which prohibits sending foreign troops to South Viet Nam. Such American action in Southeast Asia can seriously complicate the situation in

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs forecast today a substantial membership exodus from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union now that the federation has hung out a welcome sign.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he was already busy processing affiliation applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 24 to 2 Wednesday to authorize Meany to issue charters to locals defecting from Hoffa's rule. Federation officials said they have no idea how many Teamsters may thus decide to switch allegiance, but expect a sizable number.

Hoffa can be relied upon to fight back. He has said he will meet head-on any AFL-CIO threat to his union and is confident that "we'll come out on top."

Meany declined to speculate to newsmen whether the open bid for a Teamsters rebellion will result in a labor war.

"We don't go in for headbusting," Meany said. "You'll have to ask Mr. Hoffa about that."

Hoffa said in Detroit Wednesday night that he will sue Meany for $1 million on grounds of slander and libel. The Teamsters chief said the suit will be filed in U.S. District Court in Detroit next Monday.

Hoffa said he plans the court action because he wants to force Meany to try to prove his charges of corruption in the Teamsters Union.

Colombia Chief Fights Attack by Extremists

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Alberto Lleras Camargo declared Wednesday night that the government was under attack by "extremist forces" and proclaimed a state of siege throughout the nation.

Lleras broadcast the proclamation after the army announced the recapture of 130 army rebels who escaped from detention here Wednesday.

The president termed the break another effort to disrupt the presidential election next year.

across the country via live television. It was the chief executive's 16th news conference in Washington, the first in nearly 1 1/2 months and the first opened to televising as it happened since March.

Locals Hold Key To Ford Peace

Union, Company OK New 3-Year Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Individual problems at 25 local bargaining units held the key today to resumption by Ford Motor Co. following the agreement Wednesday night with the United Auto Workers Union on a new three-year national labor contract.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would recommend to the union's Ford National Council this afternoon that the settlement be approved and a nationwide strike which began 10 days ago be ended.

However, strikes will continue at the 25 local units which have unresolved problems, pending a review of all issues by the international executive board tonight.

Reuther said locals with "legitimate specific problems" will be authorized by the board to continue to strike. But he expressed hope such problems would be resolved in time to permit the company to return to production by Monday.

"We'd like to get the men back to work as soon as possible," said Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations who led the Ford bargaining team. "Monday would be fine with us."

The two sides agreed to the economic sections of the contract just prior to the strike Oct. 3. The walkout came over the non-wage sections with production standards, union representation, outside contracting and the Ford steel plant proving the major stumbling blocks.

The contract closely matches the General Motors settlement of last month.

Among other things it provides: An annual improvement factor wage increase of six cents hourly or 2 1/2 per cent for each of the three years; continuation of the cost of living allowance with 12 cents of the present 17 cent allowance added to the base wage; fully paid hospital medical insurance; an increase in minimum supplemental unemployment benefits and an extension of such payments from 26 to 32 weeks; improvements in pensions and insurance and payments for short work weeks.

Americans Said Destined To Live Lives in 'Peril'

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — President Kennedy declared today that Americans are destined to live most of their lives in "uncertainty, challenge and peril."

But Kennedy told a throng of thousands at the University of North Carolina that if citizens of the United States "can do our duty undeterred by fanatics or frenzy at home or abroad we shall be neither Red nor dead but alive, free and worthy of the best traditions and responsibilities" of state and country.

The world now pits opposite each other two opposing forces with the capacity to destroy each other, Kennedy said. He set forth this philosophy for the United States:

"While we do not intend to see the free world give up, we will make every effort to prevent the world from being blown up."

Draft Call Is Issued

WASHINGTON (AP)—The November draft call for 20,000 men, all ticketed for the Army, is the same as the one for October. The call, issued Wednesday, compares with the 25,000 in September.

Mt. Pleasant Board Meets

The Mt. Pleasant Methodist official board met in the home of Chairman Carroll Cook Sunday for the first meeting to follow the summer recess.

Rev. Charles Stephens opened the meeting with prayer. Reports and summaries of activities were given by heads of each organization of the Sunday School, Church and Youth Fellowship.

Tentative plans were made for new projects to stimulate interest in church activities. It was decided to make a donation box available in the church for the convenience of members and friends who are unable to attend regularly and wish to help financial maintenance of the church.

Rev. Stephens moderated a discussion on the evangelistic program and general canvass in effect during October. It was agreed that this important program be climaxed at the magic hour of 6:25 p. m. on Nov. 12, with an evening of fellowship preceded with a carry-in dinner in the social rooms of the church. An appropriate film will be shown and narrated by Rev. Stephens.

The Official Board will hold a brief business session in place of its regular November meeting. Members present Sunday were: Rev. Stephens; Mr. and Mrs. Cook; Mrs. Forrest Hopkins; Darlene Hopkins; Mrs. Sam Killian; Mrs. Frank Mace; Mrs. Roy Rittinger and Mrs. Russell Yaple.

Entry Attempted At Southend Home

An attempted entry at a south-end residence was reported to the Circleville Police Department yesterday.

Robert Fausnaugh, 405 S. Pickaway St., said the attempt was made at a downstairs window.

He said the attempt apparently failed and the intruder climbed up on the roof with intentions of entering a window on the second floor.

City Patrolman William Brungs, said signs of the attempt were evident on the window sill. However, no clues were found.

Russia Warns

There was in the broadcast, however, no direct threat to send in Soviet troops, nor was there any mention of North Viet Nam or Communist China.

Taylor, a top Kennedy military adviser, is scheduled to leave Sunday, make a fast survey of the increasingly dangerous situation, then give Kennedy an "educated military guess" on the size of the Communist menace and steps that could be taken to meet it. Officials said the U.S.-supported government of President Ngo Dinh Diem is coming under very heavy Red pressure.

The President announced the Taylor mission at a news conference Wednesday at which he also made clear that he will send Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson back to Moscow shortly to resume exploratory talks with Soviet leaders on possible settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Thompson, in addition, is expected to warn the Soviets anew of the dangers of expanding conflict in Southeast Asia and to urge that they cooperate in trying to prevent an outbreak of open warfare which could spread beyond South Viet Nam.

As the President discussed the Southeast Asian and Berlin situations in response to news conference questions, the impression grew among his hearers that he is grappling with the complex and interlocking problems of crises on two fronts.

Other administration officials said his decisions on Southeast Asia when Taylor returns can hardly be made without consideration of American force commitments and possible further needs in the East-West dispute over Berlin.

Ohio Escapees Are Arrested In California

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Two Ohio teen-agers who say they escaped from the Apple Creek State Hospital in Ohio a month ago have been arraigned in superior court here on auto theft charges.

The youths are Roy Lee Seymour, 18, Columbus and Clifford White, 19, of Rt. 1, Ironton. They were apprehended Oct. 6 in a car stolen in nearby Maricopa.

Detective O. J. Harber quoted the youths as saying they humped a guard at the hospital Sept. 10 and took his keys. Harber said the youths related that they then stole a car and, accompanied by two other escapees, drove to Los Angeles. Since then they said they have stolen two other cars.

They said the other two youths who made the trip with them are staying in the Los Angeles area.

Detectives said they have wired Ohio authorities, telling them the youths had been apprehended, but have not received confirmation of their escape story.

Five other psychopathic patients escaped from the hospital's top security ward, but three were captured the next day in stolen vehicles. Two were caught in Medina, and the third was captured on the Ohio Turnpike in a truck.

Still at large are Ronald Melvin of Washington Court House, Ohio and John Raynor of Seattle, Wash. A hospital official had described them as not being particularly dangerous.

Woman Bears 19th Child, Wants More

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—"It just happened that way, and if God wills it we'll have more." That was the reaction of Mary Grab, 44, Harrisburg housewife who last week gave birth to her 19th child.

The newest addition is James Mario, 10 pounds, 13 ounces.

Both baby and mother are reported "doing just fine" at Harrisburg's Osteopathic Hospital and should be able to return home Saturday.

Mrs. Grab's husband, Bob, 45, an electrician for the Pennsylvania Railroad looks on the size of his family with the same philosophy as his wife.

"We didn't plan to have such a large family," he commented, "but we're sure happy things turned out the way they did."

The other Grab children range in age from Edward Leo, 19 months to Robert William, 21.

The Grabs themselves have been married for 22 years.

General Assembly six years ago when its white supremacist policies were censured. It has threatened to pull out of the U.N. altogether if pushed too far.

Recalling the warning, delegates noted that this was the first time any U.N. representative had ever been censured for a speech.

The censure motion put in by Liberia labeled Louw's address "offensive, fictitious and erroneous."

South Africa cast the sole negative vote but 20 nations abstained. The United States, Britain, France and six other countries did not participate in the ballot, and three other nations were absent.

Explaining why the United States did not take part in the vote, Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said: "While we reject the views of the foreign minister of South Africa on the subject of apartheid and have so stated many times, we resolutely support his right—and the right of every speaker before the General Assembly—to state his views."

In the protracted U.S.-Soviet negotiations over an interim secretary-general to succeed the late Dag Hammarskjold, the United States was studying a new Soviet compromise proposal.

The two big powers had agreed earlier that the secretary-general should have five principal advisers or deputies and that four should be named from the United States, the Soviet Union, Latin America and Asia or Africa. But the Soviet Union wanted the fifth post to go to an East European while the United States held out for a West European.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin proposed on Wednesday that six deputies be named instead of five, providing places for both a West European and East European. Stevenson said he would study the proposal.

Mt. Pleasant Board Meets

The Mt. Pleasant Methodist Official Board met in the home of Chairman Carroll Cook Sunday for the first meeting to follow the summer recess.

Rev. Charles Stephens opened the meeting with prayer. Reports and summaries of activities were given by heads of each organization of the Sunday School, Church and Youth Fellowship.

Tentative plans were made for new projects to stimulate interest in church activities. It was decided to make a donation box available in the Church for the convenience of members and friends who are unable to attend regularly and wish to help financial maintenance of the church.

Rev. Stephens moderated a discussion on the evangelistic program and general canvass in effect during October. It was agreed that this important program be climaxed at the magic hour of 6:25 p. m. on Nov. 12, with an evening of fellowship preceded with a carry-in dinner in the social rooms of the church. An appropriate film will be shown and narrated by Rev. Stephens.

The Official Board will hold a brief business session in place of its regular November meeting. Members present Sunday were: Rev. Stephens; Mr. and Mrs. Cook; Mrs. Forrest Hopkins; Darlene Hopkins; Mrs. Sam Killian; Mrs. Frank Mace; Mrs. Roy Rittinger and Mrs. Russell Yaple.

that part of the world."

There was in the broadcast, however, no direct threat to send in Soviet troops, nor was there any mention of North Viet Nam or Communist China.

Taylor, a top Kennedy military adviser, is scheduled to leave Sunday, make a fast survey of the increasingly dangerous situation, then give Kennedy an "educated military guess" on the size of the Communist menace and steps that could be taken to meet it. Officials said the U.S.-supported government of President Ngo Dinh Diem is coming under very heavy red pressure.

The President announced the Taylor mission at a news conference Wednesday at which he also made clear that he will send Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson back to Moscow shortly to resume exploratory talks with Soviet leaders on possible settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Thompson, in addition, is expected to warn the Soviets anew of the dangers of expanding conflict in Southeast Asia and to urge that they cooperate in trying to prevent an outbreak of open warfare which could spread beyond South Viet Nam.

As the President discussed the Southeast Asian and Berlin situations in response to news conference questions, the impression grew among his hearers that he is grappling with the complex and interlocking problems of crises on two fronts.

Other administration officials said his decisions on Southeast Asia when Taylor returns can hardly be made without consideration of American force commitments and possible further needs in the East-West dispute over Berlin.

Ohio Escapees Are Arrested In California

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Two Ohio teen-agers who say they escaped from the Apple Creek State Hospital in Ohio a month ago have been arraigned in superior court here on auto theft charges.

The youths are Roy Lee Seymore, 18, Columbus and Clifford White, 19, of Rt. 1, Ironton. They were apprehended Oct. 6 in a car stolen in nearby Maricopa.

Detective O. J. Harber quoted the youths as saying they humped a guard at the hospital Sept. 10 and took his keys. Harber said the youths related that they then stole a car and, accompanied by two other escapees, drove to Los Angeles. Since then they said they have stolen two other cars.

They said the other two youths who made the trip with them are staying in the Los Angeles area.

Detectives said they have wired Ohio authorities, telling them the youths had been apprehended, but have not received confirmation of their escape story.

Five other psychopathic patients escaped from the hospital's top security ward, but three were captured the next day in stolen vehicles. Two were caught in Medina and the third was captured on the Ohio Turnpike in a truck.

Still at large are Ronald Melvin of Washington Court House, Ohio and John Raynor of Seattle, Wash. A hospital official had described them as not being particularly dangerous.

Woman Bears 19th Child, Wants More

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—"It just happened that way, and if God wills it we'll have more."

That was the reaction of Mary Grab, 44, Harrisburg housewife who last week gave birth to her 19th child.

The newest addition is James Mario, 10 pounds, 13 ounces. Both baby and mother are reported "doing just fine" at Harrisburg's Osteopathic Hospital and should be able to return home Saturday.

Mrs. Grab's husband, Bob, 45, an electrician for the Pennsylvania Railroad looks on the size of his family with the same philosophy as his wife.

"We didn't plan to have such a large family," he commented, "but we're sure happy things turned out the way they did."

The other Grab children range in age from Edward Leo, 19 months to Robert William, 21. The Grabs themselves have been married for 22 years.

South Africa

General Assembly six years ago when its white supremacist policies were censured. It has threatened to pull out of the U.N. altogether if pushed too far.

Recalling the warning, delegates noted that this was the first time any U.N. representative had ever been censured for a speech.

The censure motion put in by Liberia labeled Louw's address "offensive, fictitious and erroneous."

South Africa cast the sole negative vote but 20 nations abstained. The United States, Britain, France and six other countries did not participate in the ballot, and three other nations were absent.

Explaining why the United States did not take part in the vote, Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said: "While we reject the views of the foreign minister of South Africa on the subject of apartheid and have so stated many times, we resolutely support his right—and the right of every speaker before the General Assembly—to state his views."

In the protracted U.S.-Soviet negotiations over an interim secretary-general to succeed the late Dag Hammarskjold, the United States was studying a new Soviet compromise proposal.

The two big powers had agreed earlier that the secretary-general should have five principal advisers or deputies and that four should be named from the United States, the Soviet Union, Latin America and Asia or Africa. But the Soviet Union wanted the fifth post to go to an East European while the United States held out for a West European.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin proposed on Wednesday that six deputies be named instead of five, providing places for both a West European and East European Stevenson said he would study the proposal.

Thomas said the boat was metal and painted green.

Use of Bomb On Hurricane To Be Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau is going to study the possibility of using conventional or nuclear bombs to smash hurricanes.

The idea of using bombs of any type against storms "is still only in the gleam-in-the-eye stage," says Dr. Francis J. Reichelderfer, Weather Bureau chief.

Reichelderfer stressed that in addition to a lot of thought and study, any use of a nuclear device would require a national policy decision regarding nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

He told newsmen after an appearance at the National Press Club that specially designed TNT bombs might be tested on a hurricane within two or three years.

Asked about a nuclear bomb, Reichelderfer said a one megaton bomb — equal to one million tons of TNT—might do something to a hurricane, but he wasn't sure if it would be good or bad.

He said it is possible a nuclear bomb "might put too much force in one place" while conventional TNT charges placed in several parts of a storm would weaken or divert it.

Reichelderfer also said cost is a factor, stating that a one megaton bomb costs $1 million. This is the first figure given by a government official on cost of a hydrogen bomb.

He said large-scale seeding of hurricane centers with silver iodide crystals is planned in 1962 based on small tests carried out this year.

Tricky Car Key Urged for Drunks

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—An ignition key so tricky to use that a drunk can't start his automobile is being developed, a traffic safety expert reports.

Dr. James L. Malfetti, head of a safety research project at Columbia University, said the idea is to halt the drinking driver before he gets on the road.

The experimental key, he told a newsmen, has to be inserted through a maze that requires sober concentration.

Dr. Malfetti, here for the American Automobile Association convention which opened today, said another safety experiment in the works is a control on the steering wheel. When you begin over-correcting turns, a signal warns you. If you continue to over-correct, your car stops.

Congressman Opposes Any Press Censorship

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Paul F. Schenck, member of Congress from the 3rd Ohio District, believes that on the whole the American press is "doing a remarkable job."

Addressing Miami University journalism students Wednesday, Schenck said, "I would want to see nothing done to control or censor the press, radio or television. When that time comes, it will be the beginning of the downfall of our country."

Mother of 18 Explains How She Manages Big Operation

CARMEL, Calif. (AP)—When Helen North was married a month ago, more than one veteran housewife gasped at the 31-year-old widow's prospects for domestic tranquility.

Mrs. North, the mother of eight, married Navy Chief Warrant Officer Francis Louis Beardsley, the father of 10. The children range from a diapered 18-month-old to 17 years.

Before the couple went on a short honeymoon, the Beardsleys home was being doubled in size with the kitchen geared to restaurant-style operations.

"Well," a reporter asked Tuesday, "how are things working out?"

"I'm enjoying myself," she said.

As she explained it, her day works out something like this:

Up a bit earlier than the average family—about 6 a.m. The children take care of the main breakfast chores—"They all have their assignments."

During school days, 12 attend classes leaving six at home "who get along fine." On other days, the older children again take over much of the burden.

The children also take care of the housekeeping and help with the shopping.

And what does Mrs. Beardsley do?

"There's the laundry. And I like to make deserts during the day. It is nothing like I expected. I'm enjoying myself."

And she added:

"I defy anyone to tell which ones are Norths and which ones are Beardsleys now."

Just before the wedding ceremony, someone asked the bride what she thought about taking on such a large family.

"I would love to have another child. It would be pitiful if we didn't have any children of our own," the blue-eyed brunette said.

Vice Crusade Foes Plan Own Candidate List

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—A new independent political organization plans to elect a slate of candidates next month.

The group has voiced opposition to the vice-crusading Committee of 500, a reform group with its own slate of candidates, on grounds committee activities have hurt business here.

"This league has been formed to keep your business and mine in business," a spokesman told about 300 persons at Tuesday night's meeting of the new group, called the Newport Businessmen and Taxpayers League.

Donald Grant, general chairman of the league's campaign committee had this to say of the Committee of 500:

"Not one of the four reform candidates or George Ratterman (sheriff candidate) owns or runs a business or any financial interest in either the city or the county. . . I fail to see the businessmen and women I know being classed as vice overlords because they are liberal."

In business, Grant is a partner in a real estate firm with Mayor Ralph Mussman, indicted by a grand jury in its recent investigation of alleged northern Kentucky vice.

2 Insurance Firms Lose Ohio Rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Insurance Department announced yesterday revocation of licenses held by two insurance firms and their president, Mark H. Kroil of Cincinnati.

Kroil is the son of Jack Kroil, Cincinnati labor leader. The younger Kroil heads the Agency Corp. of America, Inc., and Wilmark Insurance Agency, Inc. in Cincinnati.

Acting Insurance Supt. Robert L. Mullins said administrative hearings conducted here last year by Harvey E. Hyman, former Paulding County common pleas judge, determined that Kroil and his two agencies violated insurance laws of Ohio and Michigan.

Kroil also is president of Michigan Surety Co., Lansing, Mich., declared involunt by the Michigan Supreme Court and now in the hands of that state's insurance commissioner.

The Ohio Insurance Department's journal entry said:

Kroil allowed funds held in a fiduciary capacity to be commingled and diverted into other insurance company activities.

By a series of intercorporate transactions, Wilmark Agency was rendered insolvent and Agency Corp. was seriously impaired.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has set Nov. 10 for the execution of James R. Buck, 24, convicted Akron police slayer.

Ohio Fall Coloration Starting To Reach Peak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fall coloration will be good throughout Ohio this coming weekend even though it is a week away from the peak, the Ohio Division of Parks reports.

Bright colors are appearing and the tone of the entire woodland is lighter and brighter, according to reports from 14 parks throughout the state.

Famed Train Robber Due To Gain Freedom

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Ray Deautrement, 61, one of the principals in a sensational train robbery in 1923, will be released soon after 24 years in prison.

The state parole board gave no date but said it is seeking a job and housing for Deautrement, who, with two brothers, held up a Southern Pacific train at the entrance to a tunnel in the Siskiyou mountains of Southern Oregon.

A dynamite blast, intended to uncover any riches in the mail, killed the mail clerk and wrecked the mail car. Three trainmen were shot to death and the brothers fled empty-handed.

In the spring of 1927 Hugh the youngest, was arrested in Manila, serving as a private in the Army. While his trial for first-degree murder was underway, Ray and his twin, Roy, were arrested in Steubenville, Ohio, where they were working.

All three drew life terms.

Hugh was released three years ago, went to the San Francisco Bay area to work as a printer, and died a few weeks later of cancer.

Ray paints, mostly landscapes, and teaches French, Spanish and Latin in the prison school.

Roy has been in the state hospital for the insane for years.

Electronic Brain Selects Vacations

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — An electronic brain which picks a vacation spot where the tourist will enjoy himself is on view at an office-machine exhibition in Hamburg.

The prospective vacationer who doesn't know where to go answers six questions for a clerk who punches them on a tape and feeds it to the robot: distance he wants to travel, size of the town, scenery, comforts required, sports interests and whether he wants quiet or lots of company.

The experimental machine, called the "Zuse Z23," has more than 500 vacation spots on file.

"Superb" . . . "luxurious" . . . "beautiful" . . . "brilliant"—there are many words that might be used to describe the new 1962 Cadillac car.

But if we were to select from the Cadillac vocabulary the one word that most completely captures the essence of this latest "car of cars"—we would choose "masterful".

For here is a motor car that has already established its mastery in everything that makes an automobile good and fine and desirable.

In appearance, it is clearly a Cadillac masterpiece—graceful, clean-lined and elegant.

In performance, it is a revelation. Its power plant is a reservoir of silken power—and the car rides and handles with an instinctive ease and sureness.

In safety, it is in a class of its own—with a host of exclusive features, including remarkable new side cornering lights.

In craftsmanship, it is simply without rival. Every 1962 Cadillac will undergo more than 1400 inspections to assure its quality and goodness.

On and on the list could go. But however lengthy, that list could never replace the experience of inspecting the car and driving it.

Your dealer will happily let you do both.

Once you have, you'll understand why the word has gone out so quickly that this is the finest motor car ever to bear the Cadillac name.

FOR SIXTY YEARS THE STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Use of Bomb On Hurricane To Be Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau is going to study the possibility of using conventional or nuclear bombs to smash hurricanes.

The idea of using bombs of any type against storms "is still only in the gleam-in-the-eye stage," says Dr. Francis J. Reichelderfer, Weather Bureau chief.

Reichelderfer stressed that in addition to a lot of thought and study, any use of a nuclear device would require a national policy decision regarding nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

He told newsmen after an appearance at the National Press Club that specially designed TNT bombs might be tested on a hurricane within two or three years.

Asked about a nuclear bomb, Reichelderfer said a one megaton bomb — equal to one million tons of TNT—might do something to a hurricane, but he wasn't sure if it would be good or bad.

He said it is possible a nuclear bomb "might put too much force in one place" while conventional TNT charges placed in several parts of a storm would weaken or divert it.

Reichelderfer also said cost is a factor, stating that a one megaton bomb costs $1 million. This is the first figure given by a government official on cost of a hydrogen bomb.

He said large-scale seeding of hurricane centers with silver iodide crystals is planned in 1962 based on small tests carried out this year.

Tricky Car Key Urged for Drunks

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—An ignition key so tricky to use that a drunk can't start his automobile is being developed, a traffic safety expert reports.

Dr. James L. Malfetti, head of a safety research project at Columbia University, said the idea is to halt the drinking driver before he gets on the road.

The experimental key, he told a newsmen, has to be inserted through a maze that requires sober concentration.

Dr. Malfetti, here for the American Automobile Association convention which opened today, said another safety experiment in the works is a control on the steering wheel. When you begin over-correcting turns, a signal warns you. If you continue to over-correct, your car stops.

Congressman Opposes Any Press Censorship

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Paul F. Schenck, member of Congress from the 3rd Ohio District, believes that on the whole the American press is "doing a remarkable job."

Addressing Miami University journalism students Wednesday, Schenck said, "I would want to see nothing done to control or censor the press, radio or television. When that time comes, it will be the beginning of the downfall of our country."

Mother of 18 Explains How She Manages Big Operation

CARMEL, Calif. (AP)—When Helen North was married a month ago, more than one veteran housewife gasped at the 31-year-old widow's prospects for domestic tranquility.

Mrs. North, the mother of eight, married Navy Chief Warrant Officer Francis Louis Beardsley, the father of 10. The children range from a diapered 18-month-old to 17 years.

Before the couple went on a short honeymoon, the Beardsleys home was being doubled in size with the kitchen geared to restaurant-style operations.

"Well," a reporter asked Tuesday, "how are things working out?"

"I'm enjoying myself," she said.

As she explained it, her day works out something like this:

Up a bit earlier than the average family—about 6 a.m. The children take care of the main breakfast chores—"They all have their assignments."

During school days, 12 attend classes leaving six at home "who get along fine." On other days, the older children again take over much of the burden.

The children also take care of the housekeeping and help with the shopping.

And what does Mrs. Beardsley do?

"There's the laundry. And I like to make deserts during the day. It is nothing like I expected. I'm enjoying myself."

And she added: "I defy anyone to tell which ones are Norths and which ones are Beardsleys now."

Just before the wedding ceremony, someone asked the bride what she thought about taking on such a large family.

"I would love to have another child. It would be pitiful if we didn't have any children of our own," the blue-eyed brunette said.

Gen. Van Fleet Called Out of Retirement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today pulled Gen. James A. Van Fleet out of retirement to be a part-time consultant to the Army on special warfare retaining and readiness of National Guard divisions.

Vice Crusade Foes Plan Own Candidate List

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—A new independent political organization plans to elect a slate of candidates next month.

The group has voiced opposition to the vice-crusading Committee of 500, a reform group with its own slate of candidates, on grounds committee activities have hurt business here.

"This league has been formed to keep your business and mine in business," a spokesman told about 300 persons at Tuesday night's meeting of the new group, called the Newport Businessmen and Taxpayers League.

Donald Grant, general chairman of the league's campaign committee had this to say of the Committee of 500:

"Not one of the four reform candidates or George Ratterman (sheriff candidate) owns or runs a business or any financial interest in either the city or the county."

I fail to see the businessmen and women I know being classed as vice overlords because they are liberal."

In business, Grant is a partner in a real estate firm with Mayor Ralph Mussen, indicted by a grand jury in its recent investigation of alleged northern Kentucky vice.

FOR SIXTY YEARS THE STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Outbreaks of Corruption

The evidence is stacking up. In Denver, more policemen have been charged with burglary, making a total of 35 now involved in the crime ring. Two Colorado sheriffs have been indicted for malfeasance in office. A police chief was dismissed after revealing he pocketed fines paid to him.

Chicago's police department seems to be resisting cleanup after dozens of patrolmen were revealed as burglars. The superintendent of schools in New York City had classes build him a private boat and concealed this by using a false name. Other corruption is rife in New York City, where even employees in the mayor's residence carted off food and supplies.

Philadelphia is in the midst of a racking investigation of corruption. The whole of Massachusetts recently was revealed as a corrupt politicians' and bribers' playground.

Highway scandals have afflicted Oklahoma and New Mexico, where "broad and flexible outlook" of local administrators enable contractors to profit unconscionably.

The national crime rate is skyrocketing. A murder is committed every 58 minutes in the U. S. Juvenile delinquency has reached the point where one-fifth of all youngsters are involved in one way or another.

College cheating is considered the thing to do by students from "good families." Top officials of unions are able to escape penalties for their illegal activities by use of high - powered, high - paid lawyers.

This is what is revealed by a mirror held up to the national life of our republic.

The fabric of America is drenched with the oil of a "something for nothing" philosophy. When a farmer gets paid for not growing crops, when a worker is paid for not working, when unearned government subsidies are part of regular business operations — the crimes listed above should not be surprising. They are merely outbreaks of corruption in their illegal and most extreme form.

Machine-Made Matings Lauded

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Marriages are supposed to be made in heaven, but a young psychologist here believes machine-made matings have a better chance for survival. "They do as much as possible to eliminate chance," said Dr. Eric Riss, 32, who feels a scientific approach to marriage pays off in greater wedded bliss.

Dr. Riss, a Brooklyn College faculty member is board chairman of Scientific Introduction Service, Inc. which puts his theories into practice—for a price.

"Sociologists have known for years the factors that go into making a happy marriage but little was done about it," he said.

How does a scientific approach to marriage operate? Dr. Riss or his assistants submit each marital prospect to an exhaustive interview to find his likes and dislikes, family background, and goals in life.

Some 70 personality traits are indexed on a card for each person. The cards are then run through an electronic sort.

The machine acts as a preliminary, not a final matchmaker. It picks out the people who, according to scientific theory, have the best chances for a successful marriage.

They are then introduced—and it is up to them to decide whether the machine is a prophet, or merely a push-button mechanical busybody.

"We look for personality factors that complement each other as well as those that are alike," Dr. Riss said.

"People don't look for someone just like themselves, but for a partner who can fill their needs. For example, a man with a stern outlook on life might need and want a wife with a more relaxed nature."

Here are some of Dr. Riss' findings:

"Perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of people don't really need marriage. They don't have room for it in their lives. They are too much in love with their work, their hobbies—or themselves.

"The most important factor is this: Both partners must have the same basic values in life, and share the same philosophic goals besides being physically attracted.

"Women are more concerned about character than appearance in men. They want a husband they can respect and who is brighter and more successful than themselves. This poses a very difficult problem for the very superior woman. Such men are hard to find.

"As for men, if a woman isn't physically attractive to them, they aren't particularly interested in her other values. They don't take the trouble to find out."

Does the system work? Based on hundreds of cases since 1956, Dr. Riss claims:

"The divorce rate for the United States as a whole is one for every four marriages. There has been less than one divorce for every 500 marriages we have helped arrange on scientific principles.

"This is not a cold method—but a real ally to romance. Those who fall in love do so head over heels."

Dr. Riss and his wife, a former medical social worker, have a young son. His card won't go into the marriage machine for some years.

The Music Market

By George Sokolsky

The following advertisement appeared in a New York newspaper: "New York Philharmonic announces with regret that there will be no concerts until further notice. Notification regarding refunds or exchanges will be made at a later date."

The Philadelphia Orchestra has had its troubles. Now it is the Philharmonic. Only a few weeks ago it was the Metropolitan Opera House. Perhaps these musicians need someone to remind them that it is possible to kill the market for musicians.

The three leading orchestras in the United States are the Boston, the Philharmonic and the Philadelphia. Granted that the company is suffering from inflation, the musicians must realize that no musical organization in the United States operates at a profit. Maybe the musicians are bored with Beethoven, Bach and Brahms and would prefer to organize combos to play in honky-tonks. After all, some of the new music they play is no better than progressive jazz and they may be bored. Of course, they can relieve their boredom by doing some hard physical work. There is no reason to strike. That solves no musical problem although it may have some economic significance.

When some time ago I wrote about the strike at the Metropolitan Opera House, I received some very nasty letters, particularly from women who might have been musicians' wives. The tone of the letters was generally identical and was designed to prove that I am an ignoramus who hates musicians. The fact is that I know many musicians and usually find them interesting and charming but they do not understand the economics of their trade. A virtuoso gets an enormous reward for his efforts because he is good box office. Zino Francescatti or Isaac Stern is well paid because audiences pay to hear them. Maybe the 15th violinist of the Boston is as good as a fiddler as one of these great ones, but not enough customers are willing to pay to prove that it is so. That is the very cold economics of the business.

Similarly crowds will come to see Charles Munch, Pierre Monteux, Eugene Ormandy or Leonard Bernstein conduct an orchestra. There may be superior conductors but they do not draw the crowd or have great standings among other musicians.

I used to hear musicians say that Serge Koussevitsky was a better showman than a conductor, but there was a year at Tanglewood when the cars stood several miles long to get into the grounds. It was a demonstration of respect and affection. There were similar demonstrations several times this year, particularly on the Sunday afternoon when Munch conducted Berlioz's "Romeo et Juliette." The huge audience applauded until the lights went out of sheer pity for the great maestro. It was an acknowledgement of supreme achievement.

Maybe there are hidden men of brilliance who can outdo the great men to whom I refer, but too few are willing to buy a ticket for the chance of applauding them. This has nothing to do with democracy or giving the underdog a chance. It has to do with taste and with a sense of perfection. I have listened to the same orchestra for 20 years play under different conductors and what a difference! It may be true that some of the fiddlers in the Philharmonic are greater musicians than Toscanini was but their fame is not known and they have not been accepted either by the general public or by other musicians.

So the strikers may strike each year, and it is even possible that they will put the orchestras out of existence and they themselves will be without jobs. They can fiddle at home and curse a world that does not appreciate them. But of this they can be sure, if the world does not appreciate them, their own opinion of themselves has little weight. It is too bad that few men are taken at their own valuation even if they have excellent press agents.

This many a writer had to learn very early in life. One may have a high opinion of himself, and he may be right, but if he wants to be published, someone else must have an equally high opinion of his work. Self-appreciation may be very encouraging but it does not create a large enough market for one's wares to be attractive. It is, after all, the market that counts even in the arts. "Why can't you dress like other mothers?"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.
Q: Are vitamin pills habit-forming?

A: Yes. Some people just have to have them whether they need extra vitamins or not! If you're used to daily giant doses, you won't know how to get along on less, should a shortage develop.

Q: Do vitamins prevent colds?

A: If you're well nourished, extra vitamins shouldn't help. Medical experts "debunked" this idea long ago. Still, hundreds of people insist that sneezes and sniffles set in whenever they stop gulping down giant capsules of vitamin C.

What's your experience?

Q: Are wheat germ capsules as good as the powder?

A: Probably, but why worry about wheat germ? An ordinary diet supplies the same nourishment.

Q: Do oldsters who can't digest fats need extra supplements of vitamins A and D?

A: Healthy oldsters need the same vitamins as everyone else.

At any age, when fat slides through undigested it carries valuable A and D vitamins down the drain. You may need 4 or 5 times the usual daily dose.

Your doctor can prescribe these extra vitamins.

Q: Do I need vitamin pills?

A: Not if your daily menu includes at least a pint of milk, 2 servings of meat (eggs, fish, beans, peas or nuts), 4 servings of fruits and vegetables (including 1 citrus fruit and 1 dark green or yellow vegetable) and 4 servings of whole grain, enriched, or restored bread or cereal — providing you're healthy, too!

Q: If I need extra vitamins, what size capsules should I buy?

A: For adults, the recommended daily allowances are vitamin A, 5,000 units; D, 400 units, C (Ascorbic acid), 75 mg.; B-1 (Thiamin), 1.6 mg.; B-2 (Riboflavin), 1.8 mg.; Niacin, 21 mg.; B-6 (Pyridoxine), 1-6 mg.

An ordinary supplement contains half the recommended allowance.

Capsules containing the entire allowance — sometimes slightly more — help when sickness, allergy or puppy love makes you almost give up eating.

Let your doctor prescribe larger capsules. If you don't need them, they only weigh you down.

Watch for more vitamin answers. Meanwhile, what's your vitamin question?

NEW YORK (AP)—You think you have problems? Look at the retailer.

The government says retail sales in September slipped a little from August instead of going up as expected and weren't any better than a year ago although personal income totals are higher.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

In this modern day of hustle, bustle and super-efficiency the Pickaway County Medical Society paused and saw fit to honor a departed brother. This has been the custom since the formation of our Society approximately 100 years ago.

The resolution, passed unanimously at our last regular meeting, speaks for itself.

Whereas: as in the ultimate and unchangeable destiny of all human kind, Ned B. Griner, M. D. has passed away.

Whereas: he had served his community, faithfully, wisely and without thought of self for many years, not only as a physician, but as a friend and past-president of this Society.

Therefore be it resolved that in the passing of Ned B. Griner, M. D. the community has suffered a great and irreparable loss and the Pickaway County Medical Society has lost an honorable and able member.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow of Dr. Griner, published in the local newspaper and spread upon the minutes of this Society.

Worse, the merchant isn't sure yet for just what the consumer is going to turn loose any extra cash he may have in his installment paying routine.

In retail circles themselves there are all kinds of battles under way, some getting pretty rough.

That oldie, the struggle of downtown stores against the suburban shopping centers, is still very much with us.

The competition of old line stores with discount stores now is being further complicated by the rush of many traditional firms into one form or another of discount selling.

The small store, the single store, still must cut its cloth to fit the rivalry from the big chains.

And there's the age old battle—now more acute than usual perhaps—the competition of various types of retail outlets for a bigger share of the consumer dollar.

Example: Will you spend your money for a new car this fall? For home furnishings? For clothing? Or for better and higher priced foods? Retailers in these special lines would like to know. Each can give you an argument as to why you should give him a bigger share of your spendable income.

Many merchants see better days ahead for their individual firms because of the trend toward diversifying their sale tactics. Downtown department stores, especially those in the big chains, have increased their suburban outlets markedly in the last few years.

Many have challenged the discount stores by cutting their own prices. Others have started discount outlets of their own. The variety stores and the mail order houses have joined in this trend.

Since consumers have shown a marked preference for lower prices—hardly a new thing in the history of merchandising—competition has led to much profit-margin trimming, always in the hope that increased sales volume will make up for it.

At the same time that bargain hunters have been having a field day, the stores have reported another, seemingly contrary trend. Luxury items are selling better, and prices on the rare items are setting records.

The consumer seems to be saying he'll pay for what he wants, especially if it is new or rare.

Outbreaks of Corruption

The evidence is stacking up. In Denver, more policemen have been charged with burglary, making a total of 35 now involved in the crime ring. Two Colorado sheriffs have been indicted for malfeasance in office. A police chief was dismissed after revealing he pocketed fines paid to him.

Chicago's police department seems to be resisting cleanup after dozens of patrolmen were revealed as burglars. The superintendent of schools in New York City had classes build him a private boat and concealed this by using a false name. Other corruption is rife in New York City, where even employees in the mayor's residence carted off food and supplies.

Philadelphia is in the midst of a racking investigation of corruption. The whole of Massachusetts recently was revealed as a corrupt politicians' and bribers' playground.

Highway scandals have afflicted Oklahoma and New Mexico, where "broad and flexible outlook" of local administrators enable contractors to profit unconscionably.

The national crime rate is skyrocketing. A murder is committed every 58 minutes in the U. S. Juvenile delinquency has reached the point where one-fifth of all youngsters are involved in one way or another.

College cheating is considered the thing to do by students from "good families." Top officials of unions are able to escape penalties for their illegal activities by use of high-powered, high-paid lawyers.

This is what is revealed by a mirror held up to the national life of our republic.

The fabric of America is drenched with the oil of a "something for nothing" philosophy. When a farmer gets paid for not growing crops, when a worker is paid for not working, when unearned government subsidies are part of regular business operations — the crimes listed above should not be surprising. They are merely outbreaks of corruption in their illegal and most extreme form.

Machine-Made Matings Lauded

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Marriages are supposed to be made in heaven, but a young psychologist here believes machine-made matings have a better chance for survival.

"They do as much as possible to eliminate chance," said Dr. Eric Riss, 32, who feels a scientific approach to marriage pays off in greater wedded bliss.

Dr. Riss, a Brooklyn College faculty member is board chairman of Scientific Introduction Service, Inc. which puts his theories into practice—for a price.

"Sociologists have known for years the factors that go into making a happy marriage but little was done about it," he said.

How does a scientific approach to marriage operate? Dr. Riss or his assistants submit each marital prospect to an exhaustive interview to find his likes and dislikes, family background, and goals in life.

Some 70 personality traits are indexed on a card for each person. The cards are then run through an electronic sort.

The machine acts as a preliminary, not a final matchmaker. It picks out the people who, according to scientific theory, have the best chances for a successful marriage.

They are then introduced—and it is up to them to decide whether the machine is a prophet, or merely a push-button mechanical busybody.

"We look for personality factors that complement each other as well as those that are alike," Dr. Riss said.

"People don't look for someone just like themselves, but for a partner who can fill their needs. For example, a man with a stern outlook on life might need and want a wife with a more relaxed nature."

Here are some of Dr. Riss' findings: "Perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of people don't really need marriage. They don't have room for it in their lives. They are too much in love with their work, their hobbies—or themselves.

"The most important factor is this: Both partners must have the same basic values in life, and share the same philosophic goals besides being physically attracted.

"Women are more concerned about character than appearance in men. They want a husband they can respect and who is brighter and more successful than themselves. This poses a very difficult problem for the very superior woman. Such men are hard to find.

"As for men, if a woman isn't physically attractive to them, they aren't particularly interested in her other values. They don't take the trouble to find out."

Does the system work? Based on hundreds of cases since 1956, Dr. Riss claims:

"The divorce rate for the United States as a whole is one for every four marriages. There has been less than one divorce for every 500 marriages we have helped arrange on scientific principles."

"This is not a cold method—but a real ally to romance. Those who fall in love do so head over heels."

Dr. Riss and his wife, a former medical social worker, have a young son. His card won't go into the marriage machine for some years.

The Music Market

By George Sokolsky

The following advertisement appeared in a New York newspaper: "New York Philharmonic announces with regret that there will be no concerts until further notice. Notification regarding refunds or exchanges will be made at a later date."

The Philadelphia Orchestra has had its troubles. Now it is the Philharmonic. Only a few weeks ago it was the Metropolitan Opera House. Perhaps these musicians need someone to remind them that it is possible to kill the market for musicians.

The three leading orchestras in the United States are the Boston, the Philharmonic and the Philadelphia. Granted that the company is suffering from inflation, the musicians must realize that no musical organization in the United States operates at a profit. Maybe the musicians are bored with Beethoven, Bach and Brahms and would prefer to organize combos to play in honky-tonks. After all, some of the new music they play is no better than progressive jazz and they may be bored. Of course, they can relieve their boredom by doing some hard physical work. There is no reason to strike. That solves no musical problem although it may have some economic significance.

When some time ago I wrote about the strike at the Metropolitan Opera House, I received some very nasty letters, particularly from women who might have been musicians' wives. The tone of the letters was generally identical and was designed to prove that I am an ignoramus who hates musicians. The fact is that I know many musicians and usually find them interesting and charming but they do not understand the economics of their trade. A virtuoso gets an enormous reward for his efforts because he is good box office.

Zino Francescatti or Isaac Stern is well paid because audiences pay to hear them. Maybe the 15th violinist of the Boston is as good a fiddler as one of these great ones, but not enough customers are willing to pay to prove that it is so. That is the very cold economics of the business.

Similarly crowds will come to see Charles Munch, Pierre Monteux, Eugene Ormandy or Leonard Bernstein conduct an orchestra. There may be superior conductors but they do not draw the crowd or have great standings among other musicians.

I used to hear musicians say that Serge Koussevitsky was a better showman than a conductor, but there was a year at Tanglewood when the cars stood several miles long to get into the grounds. It was a demonstration of respect and affection. There were similar demonstrations several times this year, particularly on the Sunday afternoon when Munch conducted Berlioz's "Romeo et Juliette." The huge audience applauded until the lights went on out of sheer pity for the great maestro. It was an acknowledgement of supreme achievement.

Maybe there are hidden men of brilliance who can outdo the great men to whom I refer, but too few are willing to buy a ticket for the chance of applauding them. This has nothing to do with democracy or giving the underdog a chance. It has to do with taste and with a sense of perfection. I have listened to the same orchestra for 20 years play under different conductors and what a difference it may be true that some of the fiddlers in the Philharmonic are greater musicians than Toscanini was but their fame is not known and they have not been accepted either by the general public or by other musicians.

So the strikers may strike each year, and it is even possible that they will put the orchestras out of existence and they themselves will be without jobs. They can fiddle at home and curse a world that does not appreciate them. But of this they can be sure, if the world does not appreciate them, their own opinion of themselves has little weight. It is too bad that few men are taken at their own valuation even if they have excellent press agents.

This many a writer had to learn very early in life. One may have a high opinion of himself, and he may be right, but if he wants to be published, someone else must have an equally high opinion of his work. Self-appreciation may be very encouraging but it does not create a large enough market for one's wares to be attractive. It is, after all, the market that counts even in the arts. The musician who plays for himself can tell the rest of the world to go to the Devil, but he cannot complain if there is a reciprocal vice versa.

NEW YORK (AP)—You think you have problems? Look at the retailer.

The government says retail sales in September slipped a little from August instead of going up as expected and weren't any better than a year ago although personal income totals are higher.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

In this modern day of hustle, bustle and super-efficiency the Pickaway County Medical Society paused and saw fit to honor a departed brother. This has been the custom since the formation of our Society approximately 100 years ago.

The resolution, passed unanimously at our last regular meeting, speaks for itself.

Whereas: as in the ultimate and unchangeable destiny of all human kind, Ned B. Griner, M. D. has passed away.

Whereas: he had served his community, faithfully, wisely and without thought of self for many years, not only as a physician, but as a friend and past-president of this Society.

Therefore be it resolved that in the passing of Ned B. Griner, M. D. the community has suffered a great and irreparable loss and the Pickaway County Medical Society has lost an honorable and able member.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow of Dr. Griner, published in the local newspaper and spread upon the minutes of this Society.

Worse, the merchant isn't sure yet for just what the consumer is going to turn loose any extra cash he may have in his installment he may have in his installment paying routine.

In retail circles themselves there are all kinds of battles under way, some getting pretty rough.

That oldie, the struggle of downtown stores against the suburban shopping centers, is still very much with us.

The competition of old line stores with discount stores now is being further complicated by the rush of many traditional firms into one form or another of discount selling.

The small store, the single store, still must cut its cloth to fit the rivalry from the big chains.

And there's the age old battle—now more acute than usual perhaps—the competition of various types of retail outlets for a bigger share of the consumer dollar.

Example: Will you spend your money for a new car this fall? For home furnishings? For clothing? Or for better and higher priced foods? Retailers in these special lines would like to know. Each can give you an argument as to why you should give him a bigger share of your spendable income.

Many merchants see better days ahead for their individual firms because of the trend toward diversifying their sale tactics. Downtown department stores, especially those in the big chains, have increased their suburban outlets markedly in the last few years.

Many have challenged the discount stores by cutting their own prices. Others have started discount outlets of their own. The variety stores and the mail order houses have joined in this trend.

Since consumers have shown a marked preference for lower prices—hardly a new thing in the history of merchandising—competition has led to much profit-margin trimming, always in the hope that increased sales volume will make up for it.

At the same time that bargain hunters have been having a field day, the stores have reported another, seemingly contrary trend. Luxury items are selling better, and prices on the rare items are setting records.

The consumer seems to be saying he'll pay for what he wants, especially if it is new or rare.

Pickaway Garden Club Hears Address by Mrs. Halliday

Approximately 85 persons attended the lecture and demonstration given by Mrs. J. Dean Halliday, Willoughby, at the open meeting of the Pickaway County Garden Club Tuesday evening at the Lutheran Church Parish house on E. Mound St.

Mrs. Halliday, well known arranger, specializing in dried material, is horticultural chairman for the Garden Club of Ohio and writes a King Features syndicated column.

The title of Mrs. Halliday's lecture was "Color Surprises in Dried Arrangements".

She stressed the necessity of picking material for drying before and during its prime. Not only will the color set at this time but the material will not shatter.

To prove her point the lecturer had specimens of dried material over 10 years old. She believes in the policy of annual bathing of all dried materials. "Swish 'em through soapy water then rinse", she said.

Mrs. Halliday said the curse of the dried arrangement was its lastingness. She spoke of the monotony of the same arrangement in the same spot month after month. She advised her listeners to change the location of the arrangement, to rearrange the material and to store arrangements and exchange them for others during the year.

Mrs. Halliday displayed more than 40 arrangements of dried material.

She finds, she said, that the old borax cornmeal method is still tops in drying flowers. She also presses foliage gently in newspapers without weights. She cures many different leaves in a solution of one part glycerine to two parts water. The speaker dried many flowers including delphinium, yarrow, celosia and salvia by hanging them heads down in a dry attic.

Mrs. Halliday had tried silica jel for drying plant material. She had serious doubts about the substance unless the arranger could exhibit flowers so treated under glass. She said some silica jel treated peonies which had at first given her much pleasure had not withstood the test of time.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer, president, dispensed with the business meeting. She made a few announcements however. Club members were asked to keep the following dates in mind:

Zelda Schultze will lecture Oct. 31 in Columbus at the Riverside Methodist Church in Columbus. She will speak on "Trim a Tree for Christmas". The meeting will be at 1 p. m. Interested persons may make reservations with Mrs. Measamer.

On Nov. 6 the annual Garden Club of Ohio Christmas meeting will be in Cleveland, with Mrs. John Knight speaking on "Create to Decorate, Then Celebrate". Reservations for the chartered bus trip may be made with Mrs. Measamer.

On Nov. 7 the Pickaway County Garden Club will hold a workshop on Thanksgiving arrangements at the home of Mrs. John Eshelman at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. James Moffitt, chairman, asked that members bring their own materials. Thanksgiving arrangements will be exhibited at the November meeting of the club.

Mrs. G. Guy Campbell, Pumpkin Show chairman, stressed the fact that in the specimen classes it will not be necessary to have three specimens of the same color. Different colors of one variety will be acceptable.

Representatives of many area garden clubs were present at the lecture.

Mrs. Allen Pretzman, regional vice-president for the Columbus District, Garden Club of Ohio, was among the visitors.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You're Partners, Gal!

DEAR ABBY: You may not believe this, but I have been married to a man for 34 years, and I still have never seen his paycheck. (He has an excellent white-collar job.) Nor have I seen any of his insurance policies, but I know he carries lots of insurance. I have no idea how much money he has in the bank, nor do I know if the mortgage on our house is paid. My monthly allowance is so small I am ashamed to tell you what it is. We have never had a vacation. He says we can't afford it. We are not getting any younger. I think I should have a complete understanding of our financial affairs. He says it is none of my business. It's his money. How can I change things?

WAR HORSE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: After 34 years of silence, it would be pretty difficult to teach an old war horse new tricks. Ask him if he wants to bring you up-to-date on the family finances, or would he rather you asked his banker, lawyer and insurance agent? You are his partner, you know.

DEAR ABBY: I know you are going to say that this is just puppy love but, believe me, it is not. I may be only 14 years old, but I know this is the real thing. Peter is 16, and he feels the same way about it. Our parents laugh at us when we say we are in love and want to get married when we are through school. We have gone together for four months, two weeks and three days. How can we prove to the world that this is really love?

J AND J
DEAR J AND J: Go with each other for another FIVE YEARS.

DEAR ABBY: We are two high school graduates who are interested in becoming airline hostesses. We want to know if an airline hostess is allowed to wear glasses? Do their teeth have to be perfectly straight? What about height and weight? Can you help us?

FUTURE HOSTESSES?
DEAR FUTURE: Write to the personnel director of the airline in which you are interested. Each company has its own prerequisites.

DEAR ABBY: Have you a little space in your column for a tip that might save somebody's life or home? Tell women that if the grease should catch fire while frying or making doughnuts, a few big handfuls of flour or cornmeal will smother it fast. I put out a fire that way last week, and the blaze was two feet high. Thank you.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You're Partners, Gal!

DEAR ABBY: You may not believe this, but I have been married to a man for 34 years, and I still have never seen his paycheck. (He has an excellent white-collar job.) Nor have I seen any of his insurance policies, but I know he carries lots of insurance. I have no idea how much money he has in the bank, nor do I know if the mortgage on our house is paid. My monthly allowance is so small I am ashamed to tell you what it is. We have never had a vacation. He says we can't afford it. We are not getting any younger. I think I should have a complete understanding of our financial affairs. He says it is none of my business. It's his money. How can I change things?

WAR HORSE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: After 34 years of silence, it would be pretty difficult to teach an old war horse new tricks. Ask him if he wants to bring you up-to-date on the family finances, or would he rather you asked his banker, lawyer and insurance agent? You are his partner, you know.

DEAR ABBY: I know you are going to say that this is just puppy love but, believe me, it is not. I may be only 14 years old, but I know this is the real thing. Peter is 16, and he feels the same way about it. Our parents laugh at us when we say we are in love and want to get married when we are through school. We have gone together for four months, two weeks and three days. How can we prove to the world that this is really love?

J AND J
DEAR J AND J: Go with each other for another FIVE YEARS.

DEAR ABBY: We are two high school graduates who are interested in becoming airline hostesses. We want to know if an airline hostess is allowed to wear glasses? Do their teeth have to be perfectly straight? What about height and weight? Can you help us?

FUTURE HOSTESSES?
DEAR FUTURE: Write to the personnel director of the airline in which you are interested. Each company has its own prerequisites.

DEAR ABBY: Have you a little space in your column for a tip that might save somebody's life or home? Tell women that if the grease should catch fire while frying or making doughnuts, a few big handfuls of flour or cornmeal will smother it fast. I put out a fire that way last week, and the blaze was two feet high. Thank you.

LUCKY
What's troubling you? Write Abby, care of Box 3365, Beverly Hills Calif. Include self-addressed stamped envelope.

Genetic Damage by Fallout Seen Hidden for Generations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any genetic damage caused by fallout from the current series of Russian nuclear explosions will be so slight, in the opinion of a Public Health Service physician, that it may not be discernible even after several generations.

The physician in the service's division of radiological health gave his views to reporters here today but declined to permit identification by name.

He said the radiation dose to reproductive cells from radioactivity of levels measured in this country since Sept. 1 will not be as large as that received over a long period from natural background radiation.

There is a considerable variation worldwide in the amount of natural background radiation. For instance, the expert said that in the Monazite Sands areas of India it is possibly 20 times the usual maximum in this country.

The official said it is not thought that any genetic changes caused by radiation of the levels recently recorded in this country would show up in the nation's younger people or in their immediate offspring.

"If changes do occur in far-distant generations, they may be in conditions not identifiable to radiation exposure," the doctor added. He said genetic alterations would not of necessity mean there would be deformed babies. There are hundreds of identifiable genetic characteristics and any of these could be affected.

The doctor's opinion was sought

Wife Hands Pistol To Mate, Kills Him

CINCINNATI (AP)—Raymond Adolph Braun, 46, died Wednesday night three hours after he was struck by a bullet from a pistol his wife was handing to him.

Police Lt. Ralph Weber quoted Mrs. Braun as saying her husband had asked her to get the gun from a bedroom in their home and that it accidentally fired as she passed it to him.

Lax about Lacks

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—"Are you sure you had a car?" Judge Harry S. Wyckoff asked a 20-year-old motorist brought before him in Municipal Court.

The young man was charged with operating an unsafe motor vehicle. Police said it lacked headlights, tail lights, emergency brakes and a horn. It also had an unconnected gearshift and loose seats, they said.

The motorist pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. He indicated he would return the car to his home city by truck.

Dr. Sprouse Speaker for Luther Leagues

Dr. W. Lloyd Sprouse, admissions official at Ohio State University, addressed a combined meeting of the Junior and Senior Luther League of Trinity Lutheran Church last night at the Parish House.

In his "Talk to Teenagers," Dr. Sprouse admonished the Leaguers to "be good", and follow the teachings of their church parents and schools. He compared and contrasted youth behavior with church and social teachings, and pointed out that it is not always easy to be good, but that those who aren't invariably become problems of society.

Stanley Spring, youth director, announced that the Senior League will attend a district conference of Luther Leaguers at the First English Lutheran Church, Ashville, on Oct. 22. The Junior League officers will also attend. The group will leave the Parish House at 1 p. m.

David Troutman, Senior League president, announced the regular meeting this Sunday will be a campfire session at the home of George Neff, Route 2. Leaguers will leave at 6 p. m. from the Parish House.

At the conclusion of the meeting the group prayed the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs. Wayne Morris served as chairman for the dinner which preceded the meeting. The tables were decorated in an autumn theme.

Mrs. Morris was assisted by Mrs. Luther List, Mrs. Howard Parker, Mrs. John O'Hara and Mrs. Carl Zehner.

American Prestige Abroad Said Ruined by U.S. Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Vincent Price is back from six months of European film making with an alarming view of how foreigners judge us by our movies.

Says Price: "Whatever good will Americans have engendered over the years is virtually wiped out by the kind of picture we are sending to Europe nowadays. We used to give them entertainment. Now we send them problems."

"They don't need problems; they've got enough of their own. We are giving them a sort of Tennessee Williams view of America. This is not America as all of us know it."

"But Europeans don't know it because they judge us by our movies. I had people over there ask me if the United States was undergoing a bad depression. They had gathered so because of our downbeat pictures. It was all I could do to try to convince them that we are more prosperous than ever."

BRIDEGROOM AT 103—Sydney Thain of London, who says he will be 103 in November, kisses his bride, Mrs. Maud Franklin, a 73-year-old widow, following the ceremony. Roast beef takes the top spot this week among weekend specials featured by supermarkets and neighborhood stores.

Most widely advertised cuts are top and bottom round, top sirloin rump and cross rib roasts.

Veal roasts and cutlets also are on the bargain lists of some big chains.

Hams and Boston cuts are the pork features in some areas.

Pork is among the abundant foods expected to drop in price in the next few weeks. Hog slaughter in November is predicted to exceed September by 20 per cent. Indications are that hog prices will fall below $16 per 100 pounds in Chicago from the present level of $18.50.

Frying and broiling chickens aren't being featured, but they are bargains. Prices are the lowest in 20 years.

Thanksgiving turkeys are expected to be the cheapest in recent years because of a 26 per cent increase in the number of birds raised this year, compared with last year.

Fish specialties are halibut steaks, smelts and flounder fillet.

Best vegetable bargains are potatoes, bunch beets, cabbage head lettuce, endive, escarole, spinach, squash, pumpkins, and carrots.

Good buys include beans, artichokes, brussels sprouts, mushrooms, cauliflower, eggplant, onions, peppers, sweet potatoes and cucumbers.

Best buys in fruit are apples, limes, Concord grapes and California lemons.

Good buys include avocados, honeydew melons, western grapes, pears, plums, prunes, California oranges and Florida grapefruit.

following a statement Sunday by Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a physicist who helped develop the atomic bomb, that fallout from the Russian explosions in his opinion exceeds what was established by a group of scientists in 1957 to be the "safe annual limit."

The Public Health Service is concerned not only with the possible genetic effects of fallout radiation but also with the possible effect on bone marrow, thyroid glands and tissues.

It is known, the doctor said, that fallout contains certain specific radionuclides which affect these. Analyses are now underway to determine the amounts of the specific radionuclides in samples of air, water, milk and foods collected since Sept. 1.

Kennedy Asks Drive against Retardation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called today for a "comprehensive and coordinated" national attack on the problem of mental retardation.

He said it now affects five million Americans strikes 600 times as many children as polio, and is steadily increasing.

Asserting that an intensive search to unearth means of curing and preventing the condition has been "too long postponed," the chief executive disclosed he is assembling a panel of physicians, scientists, educators, lawyers, psychologists, social scientists and other to draft a plan for attack. He called it a national problem that needs national solution.

Stepped-up research, the President said in a special statement, conceivably could yield rich by-product benefits to man—possibly uncovering "the secrets of life and man's capacities" and perhaps unveiling social behavior secrets which might help toward effecting "the rational behavior of nations".

"And they did a better job for us. In those days, every European wanted to come to America. Now they don't."

"The ideal picture for us to send abroad is 'Oklahoma!'" Price remarked. "It is cheerful and beautiful and vastly entertaining. True, it doesn't show a picture of contemporary America, but you also judge a nation by its art."

"What we know of ancient Egypt comes from its architecture, its art and its writing. A great deal of how foreigners consider us stems from what kind of art we send them. 'Oklahoma!' is a wonderful example of basically American art form."

Pumpkin Show Posy Exhibit Is Open to Area Gardeners

"Certainly," says Mrs. G. Guy Campbell, long time director of the Pumpkin Show flower exhibit, "the Flower show is open to everyone. If you're an amateur gardener in Pickaway County or the trading area of Circleville you're not only welcome but urged to enter your best blossoms in the show."

This exhibit is not a garden club event at all. It's a flower show for all the flower growers in the area.

Mrs. Campbell and her committee have planned two shows. The first will be judged Wednesday. The second will be a Friday show.

The theme of the first show is to be "Vacation Memories." There will be 12 arrangement classes in this show. Specimen classes will include celosia, dahlias, marigolds, zinnias, tuberous begonias, cosmos and snapdragons.

ON WEDNESDAY junior exhibitors will include those in the 6 to 10 age group. There will be three classes for these young arrangers. The theme of the junior flower show Wednesday will be "Our School Trips."

On Friday the flower show will be built around the idea of "Festive Time in America". There will be 12 arrangement classes in the Friday show. Specimens will include asters, roses, chrysanthemums, carnations and straw flowers.

The traditional Pumpkin show Special will be included this year as usual. The class is entitled "Pumpkin Gathering Time". It is to be an arrangement incorporating a pumpkin. The first prize in this class will be $3, second prize $2 and the third prize $1.

Entries in this class will be made Wednesday and will hold over during the entire Pumpkin Show.

In the house plant division there will be seven classes including African violets, other flowering plants, coleus, other foliage plants, vines, cacti, or succulents and any unusual plant.

House plants are to be entered Wednesday and are to remain on exhibit for the duration of both shows.

THERE will be a junior show Friday for exhibitors in the 10 to 14 age group. The three arrangement exhibits will be built around the theme, "Our School Trips."

Brass containers suitable for either arrangement making or planters will be awarded Best-of-Show winners on both Wednesday and Friday.

In the junior, specimen and house plant divisions awards will be $1 for first prize, 75 cents for second prize and 50 cents for third prize.

In the arrangement divisions for adults prizes will be $2 for first prize; $1.50 for second and $1 for third.

Premium books with complete schedule and list of rules may be obtained at all business places in Circleville.

Assisting Mrs. Campbell are members of the flower show committee. They are Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. John Eshelman, Mrs. Richard Jones, Mrs. John Mast, Mrs. Forrest Croman, Mrs.

Garden Gossip

Nobody will believe the horticultural story about the Doyle Painters having a crabapple tree with blossoms, fruit and dying branches all at the same time.

No, I did not see the tree, but I was invited to look it over.

Vangie Campbell says that since flowers are scarce three of a kind is all that's necessary in the Pumpkin Show specimen classes. They will not have to be the same color.

And maybe you think it isn't hard to scare up three of a kind and three of a color this late in the season!

BUTCH PETTY was down at the Ohio River a week ago Sunday where a farmer was baling Johnson grass (It's very nutritious). So Butch helped bale. But before he left for Pickaway County he emptied the cuffs of his trousers and did some thorough brushing off. Johnson grass seed was the last thing Butch wanted to bring home.

Herb Southward, E. Main St., says his acornite is blooming. Acornite or Monkshead is one of the fast things to bloom in Ohio gardens, I believe. It blooms a little later than the perennial sunflower even.

Of course mums are the last thing to bloom.

Chrysanthemums have acted strangely this year. In quite a few cases they started blooming very early — the last of June. Some people tell me their mums that ordinarily are in full bloom now are still in tight buds.

Ed Ingram, Stringtown, has harvested his glads and turned his attention to African violets now.

Mrs. Reynold Williams, 300 Avon Drive, has chrysanthemums against the south side of her ranch-type house. They are lovely and have been in full bloom for several weeks.

MRS. WILLIAMS has a white mum ringed with lavender that is interesting.

Alice Thompson, Collins Court, has collected coleus slips which she is rooting for the plant sale at the flower show. This is a good place to add to your houseplant collection.

Speaking of houseplants, Mrs. Wayne Luckhart has splendidly grown houseplants. Everything is flourishing. Her rubber plant last year lost a leaf for every leaf it gained but it's under control now and is a beautiful specimen.

The Luckharts have an ivy plant twining up their pole lamp. Virginia says she does not hesitate to untwine it if she wants to shine the pole. It does not seem to mind in the least.

The Luckhart chrysanthemums are behind schedule. They are just tight buds.

I have tried the fabulous silica jel. The red carnations which I treated were lovely if I had not known that last week when I put them in the silica jel they were a bright Christmas red. Now they are a much darker red.

NOW I have Japanese anemones, purple asters and yellow calendula in the silica jel. We'll see how they turn out. It only takes a week.

Speaking of silica jel, Roberta Hedges told Vangie Campbell that Georgia Holt was having great luck with her flowers dried in it. After all this is a gossip column. I have not talked to Georgia yet.

Mrs. Reginald Blue, Clarksburg, just recuperating after a stay in the hospital, has conducted an arrangement class in her own home.

When I scolded her she said it was great fun and it had not tired her one bit.

Dr. Joe Goeller, Route 4, has himself a mighty fine greenhouse. It's a big one.

If frost is predicted it's not too early to cut flowers and put them in a cool cellar. They'll hold over to Pumpkin Show.

THE flowers I nurtured all summer were not weeds after all. They are double purple datura. The plants looked like plain old Jimson weed.

The white datura has frosted foliage. And when the two daturas are together they are not as pretty a combination as you'd think.

The datura bloomed in the morning and closed after noon. This surprised me. I was not aware that datura did this.

Doris Allen told me that if you'd tramp a thistle down it wouldn't die but rear its head and start growing again.

The Brehmer grass is coming along fine where it was planted after "Erase" killed all the vegetation in the lawn. The seed was planted within a few days after Erase was applied.

Armstrong Reaches His 96th Birthday

John S. Armstrong, founder and chairman of the board of Armstrong Nurseries, Inc., world's leading creators of All-America rose varieties, was 96-years-old yesterday.

"John S." as he is known throughout the American commercial nursery scene, arrived in Ontario, Calif., on March 3, 1889, at the age of 23. He was virtually broke and in poor health, a victim of tuberculosis.

Since then, the firm he founded has won a dominant position not only in the commercial rose breeding field but also in the scientific development of early-ripening and fruiting-flowering deciduous fruit tree varieties.

In May of this year, his career was crowned by the announcement that the 1962 All-America Grandiflora Rose had been named in his honor, a distinction that has come to only a handful of living persons, including Queen Elizabeth.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

An almost imperceptible weather front moved through Ohio during the night. As the front reached the eastern portion of the state early today, skies in the western and central counties cleared.

However some cloudiness lingered from Youngstown to Marietta. No outbreak of colder air occurred with the passage of the front, and early morning temperatures were unseasonably high, ranging from 63 at Belleaire to 55 at Findlay. Columbus had 56.

The latest weather map indicates Ohio will enjoy Indian Summer weather during the next 48 hours, with fair skies, moderately warm days and pleasant nights prevailing.

STAR CACTUS — This cactus plant with its rare and curious blossoms has caused a flurry of interest in the Wayne Luckhart neighborhood. The Luckharts have raised it from a slip they were given about 18 months ago. It is a beautiful plant when in bloom.

Cactus Stars As Houseplant

Curious Species Is Grown by Luckharts

Nothing is more exciting than to be introduced to a completely new flower. And when the flower is a star cactus that looks like a star cactus and feels like a soft piece of chamois, it's a fabulous experience.

The star cactus which is growing and blooming in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Luckhart, Salt Creek Valley, is one of the most exotic and lovely plants the garden editor has seen in a long time.

Last Thursday when the cactus had five blossoms on it we paid an early morning visit. It is a non-sticky variety. The plant is not more than 11 inches tall.

The blooms, like five pointed creamy-tan stars, are penciled with thread like markings of purple brown. The centers are the same color as the markings. Each star is about five or six inches in diameter.

THE plant was a slip given Mrs. Luckhart by Mrs. Jane Cottrell of Wilkesville from her own cactus plant. The slip was rooted by the Luckharts and is only about a year and a half old.

Not only are the star shaped flowers strange and lovely, but Mrs. Luckhart showed us a picture of the odd-shaped buds which are just as exotic and interesting as the full blown flower.

She says strangely enough Mrs. Cottrell's plant has the slip away.

Mrs. Luckhart noted the plant takes little care and does not need a great deal of watering. She has it planted in a light brown pottery bowl, a perfect container for the plant, decorative-wise.

One of the plant's idiosyncracies is that it emits a disagreeable odor at times.

Mrs. Luckhart's mother, Mrs. Nellie Mowery, once had a star cactus that bloomed. Mrs. Mowery laughingly recalls she thought something was dead in the house and made her husband move the furniture so she could look for the dead mouse. Later they traced the odor to the cactus blossom.

AT THE time of my visit, however, the flowers were not emitting their characteristic aroma.

Gardening Efforts Effective at Eaton Trailer Park Home

By the second week in October the average flower garden is living on borrowed time.

For the most part, with the exception of chrysanthemums, the flowers are spent. Gardeners are thinking of pitching out the zinnias and replanting the space with spring bulbs.

However, the Ted Eatons' tiny trailer garden is still blooming in the Elsea trailer park. The flowers, small evergreens and well mowed lawn give the place a look of cozy hominess. The trailer has for its backdrop a planting of young evergreens which belongs to Robert Elsea, trailer park owner.

When we talked to Mrs. Eaton, we remarked about the air of permanency present. The walk from the trailer to the street is flanked by two arbor vitae and two tiny shapely spruce trees.

WE WERE surprised to learn the Eatons have only been living in trailer park for a little more than a year.

Mrs. Eaton, whose husband is a Replodge employe, says that was just the look she hoped to achieve. The Eatons have lived all over Ohio and in many other places besides. The flowers and evergreens give them a "settled" feeling.

Hybrid petunias, marigolds (dwarf and regular height) and allysum complete the bright little front planting.

Mrs. Eaton says she purchased the petunias at the greenhouse and they have bloomed consistently all summer. And Mrs. Eaton says Ted, who often comes in from work late in the evening, has remarked that when he turns up their street in the trailer village the flowers are so bright they are like a light.

Incidentally, Mrs. Eaton calls allysum, "Rocky Mountain plant". In Erie, Pa., her former home, that's what everybody calls it. "Guess it's the Dutchy way of saying allysum," she remarked.

There is another corner bed to the north of the little yard.

HERE Mrs. Eaton has a planting of big zinnias, some of which she is saving for seeds. She also had phlox and "Rocky Mountain flowers" blooming in this bed.

Because her husband is away from home often, Mrs. Eaton cuts the grass herself with the park mower. The Eaton's lawn is about the biggest one in the park.

We asked her if the youngsters did not bother the little garden. But there's plenty of space for youngsters to play in the trailer park and they preferred roaming with the other youngsters to digging up "Mamma's flowers".

While Mrs. Eaton had enjoyed her little gardening project she felt that there were others in the park who were far better gardeners. For instance she had noticed that Alvin York had pulled up his zinnias recently. So she was going to do likewise. Another neighbor, Kenneth Wilson, was very successful with flowers.

We complimented Mrs. Eaton on her well grown evergreens that flanked the walk. She explained that trailer folks may transplant evergreens from the Elsea evergreen planting. They must promise to take good care of them and that is all that is necessary.

In the Elsea planting are arbor vitae, spruce and pines. The Eaton's is the tiniest garden we have

Deadly Toy Found By 3 Youngsters

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Death waited in the next rattle of a deadly toy found by three youngsters.

The toy was a metal can containing a half-pound block of TNT and two blasting caps—enough to destroy an automobile.

Their mother, Mrs. John Poucher, discovered the lethal playing thing and called police.

"All it needed was one tiny spark and the whole thing would have blown," said detective Sgt. G. M. Brown.

Pumpkin Show Posy Exhibit Is Open to Area Gardeners

"Certainly", says Mrs. G. Guy Campbell, long time director of the Pumpkin Show flower exhibit, "the Flower show is open to everyone. If you're an amateur gardener in Pickaway County or the trading area of Circleville you're not only welcome but urged to enter your best blossoms in the show."

This exhibit is not a garden club event at all. It's a flower show for all the flower growers in the area.

Mrs. Schulke To Give Talk In Columbus

"Trim the House for Xmas," will be the theme of the lecture and flower arranging demonstration by Mrs. R. G. Schulke, of Brecksville, Ohio, when she speaks on Oct. 31, at 1 p. m., in the Riverside Methodist Church (Zollinger and Kioka Roads, in Upper Arlington).

The talk and demonstration by this well known teacher, lecturer and flower arranger is being sponsored by the Upper Arlington Garden Council.

Mrs. Schulke was the recent runner-up in the 1961 Jackson Perkins Rose Growers invitational flower arrangers' show.

For a number of years Mrs. Schulke has taught flower arrangement courses at the Cleveland Garden Center, as well as lecturing extensively in eastern and central states, and teaching short courses at the Universities of Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, Iowa, Oklahoma and Michigan State.

SHE is an accredited flower judge and teacher for state flower shows, past president of Ohio Flower Show Judges, council member of the Board of Garden Clubs of Ohio, and as an exhibitor in flower shows she has won many tri-color (the top award) and blue ribbons for her arrangements in competition at New York, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia and flower show judging schools.

Mrs. Schulke is the author of several books on the subject of flower arranging, and her most recent book, which is fitting with her lecture topic, is "Holiday and Party Table Settings," others include "A Treasury of Christmas Decorations," and "Hanging Plant and Flower Decorations."

Information or tickets for this lecture may be obtained by writing to Mrs. J. R. Shank, 1812 Bedford Road, Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Luckhart says it is most noticeable about noon.

The star cactus flowers are hairy, too.

If you have a chance to see a star cactus in bloom don't miss the opportunity. It is a rare and beautiful citizen of the houseplant world.

As cacti go the plant itself is attractive. So if anybody is generous enough to offer you a star cactus slip by all means accept it and nurture it to the best of your ability.

Kennedy Sees No Early Halt In Cold War

Kennedy, wearing his usual news conference dark blue suit and purple tie, provided a few chuckles but for the most part was solemn in tone and manner.

Declaring "we move through a period of maximum hazard," he ticked off steps his administration has taken in an effort to build up the country's nuclear and conventional forces. That buildup has dashed hope for a tax cut next year, he said. The government still aims for a balanced budget—an aim he said is threatened only by further demands for defense spending.

Kennedy made no promise against a tax increase but said he wouldn't want to saddle the country with a tax burden that would strangle its economic resources.

Asked if he was disturbed by Republican criticism of his foreign policy—criticism in which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has participated—Kennedy said "everyone is free to make any attacks they want." He would prefer constructive suggestions, Kennedy said, "but I would never suggest that the battle of the mimeograph machines between the Republican committee and the Democratic committee should cease."

Kennedy classified the Gromyko talks as illuminating and said Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson would continue the exchanges in Moscow. But he said he had discovered no substantial change in Soviet policy, apparently since Premier Khrushchev laid it out in Vienna last June.

"I see no evidence, as yet, that there is any clear solution to Berlin," Kennedy said.

When a new West German government is established he said, the Allies should come to "more final conclusions" on their approach to the Kremlin. France and West Germany are believed less inclined than Britain and the United States to pursue talks with the Soviets at this time.

In other fields, Kennedy took these positions:

Nuclear tests—The U.S. pattern of keeping its tests below ground, without spreading dangerous radioactive particles in the atmosphere, is consistent with its security interests. He did not, however, rule out the possibility of some day firing test shots in the atmosphere.

He said the United States would be glad to renew negotiations with the Soviet Union toward an effective test ban treaty but would not suspend its test program during negotiations. And he disclosed the Soviets have set off more than 20 atmospheric blasts in their current series. The United States has announced only 19 specific detections.

Shelters—By mid-November, the government hopes to suggest measures every homeowner could take to furnish some protection against radioactive fallout.

Speaker—It would be unwise for anyone outside the House—this would include him—to suggest a preference if it becomes necessary to elect a successor to Speaker Sam Rayburn, seriously ill with cancer.

Foreign aid—The United States is not using aid as a weapon to force needy countries to adopt its policies. "In general, our object is that they maintain their independence," he said. "We hope it is theirs."

Discrimination — He approved the decision of his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to withdraw from Washington Metropolitan Club, which has a policy against Negroes as members or guests. Asked whether other members of his administration should belong to the club, he said each must decide for himself.

Syria Urges New Arab State Union

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's new revolutionary regime today proposed that all Arab countries from the Atlantic to the Persian Gulf join in a United Arab States.

The U.A.S. said a 14-point appeal sent to all Arab governments, would be a "voluntary Pan-Arab union on a constitutional, decentralized basis."

The proposal obviously was designed to recapture from Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser the initiative toward Arab unity, a popular cause among Arabs.

Premier Mamoun Kuzbari and his provisional government have described this country's own so-called union with Egypt—the United Arab Republic which was shattered by the Syrian revolution of Sept. 28—as an experiment in Arab unity that failed because it lacked a basis of "freedom and equality."

Syria's appeal, made jointly by the provisional government and the army revolutionary command and read over the Damascus radio by Kuzbari, said the United Arab States should follow an international policy of neutrality and peaceful coexistence.

All Arab governments were urged to call their parliaments into session to consider the Syrian proposals.

Ohio Idle Pay Rate Continues Downward

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The slow downward trend in the number of Ohioans receiving jobless benefits is continuing, according to statistics released today by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Newhart may find himself in trouble with members of the viewing audience who know a comedy sketch only when it is advertised by a pie in the face. But the rest of the TV audience, particularly those who have been hungering for some sharp wit and clever commentary, will make him their hero.

Newhart's new weekly program, in its first outing on NBC Wednesday night, poked some subtle fun at the free enterprise system and organization men and then, even more daringly, went to work on the integration problem.

Newhart's first sketch was based on the premise that local fire departments should be operated as a private business. He played, in a monologue, an office salesman of "Phil's Fires, Inc.," using all the business cliches in making lackadaisical arrangements for his company to respond to a call for help. Any resemblance to the average householder's problem in summoning a service man in an emergency was not coincidental.

The second sketch had Newhart playing Tarzan after 40 years of living in his African jungle. Tarzan—and his frowsy, shrill-voiced Jane — complained bitterly about efforts of "the neighbors" to get them out of the neighborhood in show. One can only hope that Newhart, with a weekly show, can maintain his high standard of material and wit.

Recommended tonight: "Margie," premiere, ABC, 9:30-10 (Eastern Daylight Time)—Situational comedy set in the 1920s; "CBS Reports" 10-11—"Eisenhower on the Presidency," first of a series of conversations with the former president on the nation's top position.

Anti-Identical Bidding Campaign Is Readied

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to discourage collusive bidding on government contracts was unveiled today by the Justice Department.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the plan will hinge on the reporting of identical bids received by federal agencies and any of 2,000 participating local and state governments.

Authorized by an April 24 presidential order, the new system will become effective Nov. 1.

WON'T REGISTER—Gus Hall (above) and Benjamin Davis, top American Communists, have taken a vow that could send them to prison. Soon after the Supreme Court refused to review a June 5 decision that the Communist Party must register as an arm of a foreign government, Hall and Davis declared neither the party nor members will register as agents of Soviet Russia.

Letter Carrier Named Acting Postmaster

Syria Urges New Arab State Union

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's new revolutionary regime today proposed that all Arab countries from the Atlantic to the Persian Gulf join in a United Arab States.

The U.A.S., said a 14-point appeal sent to all Arab governments, would be a "voluntary Pan-Arab union on a constitutional, decentralized basis."

The proposal obviously was designed to recapture from Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser the initiative toward Arab unity, a popular cause among Arabs.

Premier Mamoun Kuzbari and his provisional government have described this country's own so-called union with Egypt—the United Arab Republic which was shattered by the Syrian revolution of Sept. 28—as an experiment in Arab unity that failed because it lacked a basis of "freedom and equality."

Syria's appeal, made jointly by the provisional government and the army revolutionary command and read over the Damascus radio by Kuzbari, said the United Arab States should follow an international policy of neutrality and peaceful coexistence.

All Arab governments were urged to call their parliaments into session to consider the Syrian proposals.

Ohio Idle Pay Rate Continues Downward

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The slow downward trend in the number of Ohioans receiving jobless benefits is continuing, according to statistics released today by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

The total as of last Saturday was 76,055; a week earlier it was 77,846; in mid-September it was 80,376, and the October 1960 average was 109,251.

New claims filed last week however, showed a sharp increase over the previous week—17,393 to 13,180.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Newhart may find himself in trouble with members of the viewing audience who know a comedy sketch only when it is advertised by a pie in the face. But the rest of the TV audience, particularly those who have been hungering for some sharp wit and clever commentary, will make him their hero.

Newhart's new weekly program, in its first outing on NBC Wednesday night, poked some subtle fun at the free enterprise system and organization men and then, even more daringly, went to work on the integration problem.

Newhart's first sketch was based on the premise that local fire departments should be operated as a private business. He played, in a monologue, an office salesman of "Phil's Fires, Inc.," using all the business cliches in making lackadaisical arrangements for his company to respond to a call for help. Any resemblance to the average householder's problem in summoning a service man in an emergency was not coincidental.

The second sketch had Newhart playing Tarzan after 40 years of living in his African jungle. Tarzan—and his frowzy, shrill-voiced Jane—complained bitterly about efforts of "the neighbors" to get them out of the neighborhood in show. One can only hope that Newhart, with a weekly show, can maintain his high standard of material and wit.

Recommended tonight: "Margie," premiere, ABC, 9:30-10 (Eastern Daylight Time)—Situation comedy set in the 1920s; "CBS Reports" 10-11—"Eisenhower on the Presidency," first of a series of conversations with the former president on the nation's top position.

Anti-Identical Bidding Campaign Is Ready

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to discourage collusive bidding on government contracts was unveiled today by the Justice Department.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the plan will hinge on the reporting of identical bids received by federal agencies and any of 2,000 participating local and state governments.

Authorized by an April 24 presidential order, the new system will become effective Nov. 1.

WON'T REGISTER—Gus Hall (above) and Benjamin Davis, top American Communists, have taken a vow that could send them to prison. Soon after the Supreme Court refused to review a June 5 decision that the Communist Party must register as an arm of a foreign government, Hall and Davis declared neither the party nor members will register as agents of Soviet Russia.

Stranahan Cops Ohio Open Again

Toledo Wins Test In One-Hole Playoff

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—It took a brilliant clutch performance for Frank Stranahan to win his third Ohio Open Golf Championship.

The Toledo pro made up a six-stroke deficit and edged Eddie Griffiths of Youngstown by sinking a 12-foot putt for a birdie.

Tom Cassidy, Pickaway Country Club assistant pro, ended with a 303 total in Ohio Open Golf Tournament yesterday in Akron.

Bob Bisciotti, PCC pro, competed in the professional, rather than the amateur, divisions as was listed yesterday. His score did not qualify him for a finals berth.

Cassidy's overall showing read 79-72-77-75 for 303.

three in a sudden death playoff Wednesday.

Midway through the 36-hole finals, Griffiths, the 1957 Ohio Open champion, led the field by four strokes with 221 and was six strokes ahead of Stranahan.

But Griffiths had his troubles on the final 18, soaring to a 76, six over par, for a 287 total—seven over par. He muffed a four-foot putt on the last regulation hole that would have given him the championship.

Stranahan, who won the Open in 1948 as an amateur and last year as a professional, settled down to a steady round, shooting par 70 over the difficult 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course.

He sank a five-foot putt on the last regulation hole to tie Griffiths.

On the first sudden death hole, both were in two, but Griffiths' putt from 30 feet was short. Griffiths had dropped in longer putts than that during his brilliant opening round Monday when he fired a 67. Stranahan then dropped a 12-foot putt for a birdie-three and the championship.

Asked what he was going to do next after winning the $500 first prize, Stranahan said he plans to play in the Japanese Open next month.

In third place was Leo Biagetti of Ashland, who led the field going into Wednesday's 36-hole round, but took a 76-73 and wound up with a 288 total for the 76-hole affair.

Jim Lucius, Troy Country Club pro, came in fourth with 290.

Don Stickey, a sophomore from Ohio State University, turned in the best amateur score, a 296.

Leaders among the 25 amateurs shared $875 in merchandise prizes. The prize list for professionals totaled $2625. Thirty-nine professionals made the finals out of 100 who started Monday; 50 amateurs started the tournament.

Longhorn Target Is Oklahoma '11'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas, which never could win the "big one" against Oklahoma teams laden with Texans, has a talented group of stay-at-homes, ready to make the winless Sooners its fourth straight victim this week.

The fourth-ranked Longhorns, coached by Darrell Royal who toiled so spectacularly for Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson a few years back have their most powerful team in years and plan on letting the Sooners know about it.

Royal has three straight victories over his former mentor Texas as is ranked first nationally in total offense, second in rushing offense, third in scoring and seventh in rushing defense.

Beside Royal, a "foreigner" from Hollis, Okla., the Longhorns have quarterback Mike Cotten from Austin, halfbacks Jimmy Saxton, from Palestine, and Jack Collins from Dallas, and fullback Ray Poague from Houston.

Oklahoma's halfback Mike McClellan is a Texan from Stamford, while standout end Ronnie Payne is from Breckenridge.

But by sticking close to home, Saxton has clipped in with an average gain of 13.5 yards in the 28 times he has handled the ball. The Longhorns have racked up 1,512 yards so far.

Michigan halfback Dave Raimy got a clean bill of health for the sixth-ranked Wolverines crucial Big Ten game against Michigan State, ranked No. 5. He had suffered a hip bruise against Army. The Spartans will be without alternate defensive center Mike Currie for the nationally televised game.

Northwestern, which plays Minnesota, lost guard Jack Cverko for the year because of a knee injury while Notre Dame quarterback Daryle Lamonica is nursing a bruised muscle but is expected to be ready for Southern California.

Kansas halfback Curtis McClintan is out of Saturday's game against Iowa State and will be replaced by Willis Brooks. Ohio State quarterback Bill Mrukowski hurt a leg and was replaced at the No. 1 slot by John Mummy.

Mack Gilehrst will do most of Missouri's fullbacking against Oklahoma State because of an injured chest suffered by Andy Russell. Texas Christian's right guard contingent has been reduced to two men by injuries while Southern Methodist guard Bob Hunt joined fullback Mike Rice and center Mike Kelsey on the sidelines with a knee injury.

Yanks Favored By 7-2 To Win Ryder Cup Test

But Team Captains Doubt Match To Be Walkaway for U.S.

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP) — Two men who live and breathe golf dismissed the idea today that the Ryder Cup matches starting Friday will be a walkover for the Americans.

They are the men who should know — American team captain Jerry Barber and British captain Dai Rees.

Bookies have made the Americans 7-2 favorites to win the cup for the eleventh time in the two-day competition.

"The bookies must be insane," said Barber after leading his team through the second day of practice on the Royal Lytham St. Anne's course. "This match will be as even as it could be."

Rees, 48, playing in his ninth Ryder Cup, said: "Don't write us off. We were the long shots in the matches played in Britain four years ago—and we still won."

"Six of that winning team will be going against the Americans this week. We have a good chance to beat anyone."

"Of course the Americans have got a formidable team—they're always formidable," Rees said. "But I reckon we're in there with a real chance—and I'm not saying that just because I'm captain." In the first two days of practice, the British have produced scores that match or better those of the Americans.

But Bill Cox, former British Ryder Cup captain and now acknowledged as the foremost golf teacher in this country, watched the Americans playing Wednesday's fierce winds and said:

"Practice scores can be very deceptive. The Americans are going over this course with a fine tooth comb, trying all sorts of different shots to find out which is the best way to play it. You can be sure they will hit their best form when it counts."

Barber and Rees will name their pairings today for the eight Scotch foursomes Friday.

Barber indicated he would link Arnold Palmer, British Open champion, with Bill Casper; Mike Souchak with Bill Collins; Doug Ford with Gene Littler; Art Wall with Jay Hebert; and himself with Dow Finsterwald. Only four of the five pairs will play, but

Swami Notches .500 Mark, Picks Week's SCO Winners

By BUSTER BENGAL (Herald SCOL Guessert)

Last weekend's South Central Ohio League's results left my football adviser, the Swami of the Scioto, mired in the mud and howling with a anguish along Hargus Creek's shores.

The Swami, who prides himself on his expert prognostications, gazed with rueful respect at two squads he entirely underrated — the blustering Hurricane out of Wilmington and the comeback-from-apparent-death Washington C. H. Blue Lions.

Wilmington made the Swami's tea leaves look like three-day coffee grounds with its 30-0 knockdown of favored Circleville. The Lions, who just won't give up, spanked Hillsboro's highly-touted Indians 22-8 despite the prediction

Packer Game May Draw Record Crowd

CLEVELAND (AP)—Depending on the weather, the National Football League game here Sunday between the Cleveland Browns and the Green Bay Packers—who have not met since 1956—could draw a near-capacity crowd.

Less worried about attendance than the outcome is Cleveland Coach Paul Brown who advised its team Wednesday that "you have a chance but you have to be at your very best."

The coach said he considered the Packers one of the most solid teams in football.

"The packers are a possession football team," he said. "Watching one of their game movies we kept waiting for them to turn over the ball. They just seemed to keep it and keep it, marching down the field."

"You won't find a pair of harder running backs around than Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor. They are bruising runners."

Asked if he felt his team and the Packers were somewhat similar with an emphasis on running and strong defenses, Brown replied: "That's probably true. The football thinking of Vince Lombardi and myself runs along much the same lines. We have compared notes frequently the past few years."

of a victory from the Tribe. Franklin Heights made us out at least average grid dopesters with a 20-0 setback of inexperienced Miami Trace and Greenfield, despite injuries, gave us a reputable .500 percentage in our first try at football forecasting with a 16-8 squeaker over Pleasant View.

Circuit standings are tight as a drum head at a Fourth of July celebration, with three clubs — Wilmington, Franklin Heights and surprising Greenfield — deadlocked for the top spot with identical and enviable 2-0 ledgers.

Circleville's Tigers, determined to make a pennant bid despite the loss to Wilmington, are tied with Washington C. H. for the runner-up position with a 1-1 record. Scrambling to escape the loop basement are Pleasant View, Hillsboro and Miami Trace, each carrying 0-2 slates.

Undaunted, the Swami has procured a fresh supply of tea leaves (a different brand) and come up with an equally fresh and we hope refreshingly accurate set of selections for this week's SCO contests.

Circleville over Hillsboro — We're a long way from giving up on Benny Benhase's bounce-back Bengals. The CHS outfit is solid and Hillsboro showed little on defense in losing last Friday to WCH. The Indians have the home field advantage going for them, but a Circleville win shines brightly.

Wilmington over Greenfield — Billed as a "battle of the unbeaten" this scrap is deceptive. True the McClain boys hold a clean SCO slate, but wins over Miami Trace and struggling Pleasant View don't stand up against the Hurricane's powerhouse passing and whalloping of Circleville. Greenfield also has several front line players sidelined or slowed by injuries.

For All Your Banking Needs The SAVINGS Bank Circleville FDIC

Franklin Heights over Pleasant View — The Falcons should wrap up their third straight loop triumph by a decisive margin.

Washington C. H. over Miami Trace — The big game for Fayette County this campaign no matter what else happens. Determination and fire could bring the Panthers close — but not close enough — as Dick Anders' WCH rejuvenated Lions are aiming at a slice of the league crown.

That's it and a fiery concoction of Friday night gridiron warfare it is.

Yanks Favored By 7-2 To Win Ryder Cup Test

But Team Captains Doubt Match To Be Walkaway for U.S.

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP)—Two men who live and breathe golf dismissed the idea today that the Ryder Cup matches starting Friday will be a walkover for the Americans.

They are the men who should know — American team captain Jerry Barber and British captain Dai Rees.

Bookies have made the Americans 7-2 favorites to win the cup for the eleventh time in the two-day competition.

"The bookies must be insane," said Barber after leading his team through the second day of practice on the Royal Lytham St. Anne's course. "This match will be as even as it could be."

Rees, 48, playing in his ninth Ryder Cup, said: "Don't write us off. We were the long shots in the matches played in Britain four years ago—and we still won."

"Six of that winning team will be going against the Americans this week. We have a good chance to beat anyone."

"Of course the Americans have got a formidable team—they're always formidable," Rees said. "But I reckon we're in there with a real chance—and I'm not saying that just because I'm captain."

In the first two days of practice, the British have produced scores that match or better those of the Americans.

But Bill Cox, former British Ryder Cup captain and now acknowledged as the foremost golf teacher in this country, watched the Americans playing Wednesday's fierce winds and said:

"Practice scores can be very deceptive. The Americans are going over this course with a fine tooth comb, trying all sorts of different shots to find out which is the best way to play it. You can be sure they will hit their best form when it counts."

Barber and Rees will name their pairings today for the eight Scotch foursomes Friday.

Barber indicated he would link Arnold Palmer, British Open champion, with Bill Casper; Mike Souchak with Bill Collins; Doug Ford with Gene Littler; Art Wall with Jay Hebert; and himself with Joy Finsterwald. Only four of the five pairs will play, but

Swami Notches .500 Mark, Picks Week's SCO Winners

By BUSTER BENGAL
(Herald SCOL Guessert)

Last weekend's South Central Ohio League's results left my football advisor, the Swami of the Scioto, mired in the mud and howling with anguish along Hargus Creek's shores.

The Swami, who prides himself on his expert prognostications, gazed with rueful respect at two squads he entirely underrated — the blustering Hurricane out of Wilmington and the comeback-from-apparent-death Washington C. H. Blue Lions.

Wilmington made the Swami's tea leaves look like three-day coffee grounds with its 30-0 knockdown of favored Circleville. The Lions, who just won't give up, spanked Hillsboro's highly-touted Indians 22-8 despite the prediction

Packer Game May Draw Record Crowd

CLEVELAND (AP)—Depending on the weather, the National Football League game here Sunday between the Cleveland Browns and the Green Bay Packers—who have not met since 1956—could draw a near-capacity crowd.

Less worried about attendance than the outcome is Cleveland Coach Paul Brown who advised its team Wednesday that "you have a chance but you have to be at your very best."

The coach said he considered the Packers one of the most solid teams in football.

"The Packers are a possession football team," he said. "Watching one of their game movies we kept waiting for them to turn over the ball. They just seemed to keep it and keep it, marching down the field."

"You won't find a pair of harder running backs around than Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor. They are bruising runners."

Asked if he felt his team and the Packers were somewhat similar with an emphasis on running and strong defenses, Brown replied: "That's probably true. The football thinking of Vince Lombardi and myself runs along much the same lines. We have compared notes frequently the past few years."

Lombardi is the Green Bay coach.

of a victory from the Tribe. Franklin Heights made us out as at least average grid dopsters with a 20-0 setback of inexperienced Miami Trace and Greenfield, despite injuries, gave us a reputable .500 percentage in our first try at football forecasting with a 16-8 squeaker over Pleasant View.

Circuit standings are tight as a drum head at a Fourth of July celebration, with three clubs — Wilmington, Franklin Heights and surprising Greenfield — deadlocked for the top spot with identical and enviable 2-0 ledgers.

Circleville's Tigers, determined to make a pennant bid despite the loss to Wilmington, are tied with Washington C. H. for the runner-up position with a 1-1 record. Scrambling to escape the loop basement are Pleasant View, Hillsboro and Miami Trace, each carrying 0-2 slates.

Undaunted, the Swami has procured a fresh supply of tea leaves (a different brand) and come up with an equally fresh and we hope refreshingly accurate set of selections for this week's SCO contests.

Circleville over Hillsboro — We're a long way from giving up on Benny Benhase's bounce-back Bengals. The CHS outfit is solid and Hillsboro showed little on defense in losing last Friday to WCH. The Indians have the home field advantage going for them, but a Circleville win shines brightly.

Wilmington over Greenfield — Billed as a "battle of the unbeaten" this scrap is deceptive. True the McClain boys hold a clean SCO slate, but wins over Miami Trace and struggling Pleasant View don't stand up against the Hurricane's powerhouse passing and whalloping of Circleville. Greenfield also has several front line players sidelined or slowed by injuries.

Franklin Heights over Pleasant View — The Falcons should wrap up their third straight loop triumph by a decisive margin.

Washington C. H. over Miami Trace — The big game for Fayette County this campaign no matter what else happens. Determination and fire could bring the Panthers close — but not close enough — as Dick Anders' WCH rejuvenated Lions are aiming at a slice of the league crown.

That's it and a fiery concoction of Friday night gridiron warfare it is.

Racketeers Out To 'Get' McElroy

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy told a group of Findlay College students that he knows racketeers are out to get him in the next election.
"They (the racketeers) have promised to take their vengeance upon me at the polls next year," McElroy said. "I'm not surprised at this since in any war the fight is constant and bitter."
McElroy addressed a banquet at Findlay College which kicked off Circle K Week in Ohio. The group is a national collegiate Kiwanian organization.
Turning to voters, McElroy said: "In my opinion anyone who is eligible to vote and who defaults in the exercise of this sacred privilege cannot claim the degree of patriotism necessary for the survival of our country."

High point in golfer Bob Rosburg's career was his victory in the 1959 PGA championship. He's a former Stanford athlete.

for a visit to President Eisenhower.

Since then Khrushchev has turned truculent again—perhaps because of pressure, perhaps even because his leadership was at stake. He turned back to the brink of war policy practiced by Stalin in attempts to push communism forward by violent aggressiveness.

Khrushchev had stood for the notion that the U.S.S.R. could so build its economy that its political and economic drives would make communism invincible in the world without the risk of nuclear war. It was a cautious policy.

But while a half dozen years of supremacy by Khrushchev made headway for communism with the economic and political infiltration in many areas Soviet Communists added no new slices of real estate to the empire. Indeed, in some respects, they experienced losses.

For hard-shell Stalinists, the world revolution moved too slowly. Communists were set back in the Middle East, notably in Iraq. Moscow quarreled with Gamal Abdel Nasser, spokesman for Arab nationalism. Communism was hesitant about pushing ahead in India. It was plagued by ideological bickering with Yugoslav Communists on one hand and Chinese on the other. It made no headway in economically flourishing Europe. It gained Cuba, but that was dumped in its lap and was by no means reliable or secure.

Inside the Communist world there were political and economic strains. Attempts to integrate the European Red bloc economies brought problems to individual Communist governments.

There were strains in the U.S.S.R. itself. Party propaganda makes no bones about the fact that "building communism" will mean many more years of labor for a people impatient to share in riches now poured into heavy industry to build world power.

All in all, Khrushchev goes to the congress with a raft of troubles. Signs indicate he can ride them out, but in all likelihood he will have to make compromises to do so.

Knepper Gets Old Job with Parking Panel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William Knepper, a Columbus attorney, is back at a familiar job—chairman of the underground parking commission.

Knepper was selected to head the new commission at its first meeting here Wednesday. Knepper also headed a previous commission which was knocked out by the Ohio Supreme Court because it was limited to building a garage under the statehouse lawn.

The new five-member commission, created by the last legislature, is empowered to build and operate underground parking garages that can be financed with revenue bonds.

The committee was appointed by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Public Works Director Theodore J. Kauer is a member by virtue of his state post. He will serve as secretary; Ray McLean of Columbus is vice chairman and Thomas Hayward of Columbus is treasurer.

The next meeting will be Nov. 6 in Kauer's office.

Jury To Get Case of Woman Accused as Burglary Queen

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A jury next Monday will begin deliberating the fate of Lillian Reis, 32, a onetime chorus girl accused of masterminding a burglary which police claim netted $500,000 and led to the gangland slayings of two brothers.

The stormy 16-day trial produced unusual testimony and led the prosecution to plead surprise on testimony of its own witnesses.

Judge Charles W. Staudenheimer said he plans to charge the jury Monday.

After the judge's charge, the panel of five women and seven men will deliberate the shapely brunette's fate.

The trial is in recess because of Columbus Day, a court holiday. It will resume Friday, during which time the prosecution and defense will deliver their summations, then recess. Judge Charles W. Staudenheimer decided not to charge the jury until Monday because summations may cover an extended period.

The defense rested Wednesday. The final defense witness was Miss Reis' estranged husband, Michael Corabi, 42, who said he once helped her count nearly $30, 000 in cash in September, 1958.

Corabi's testimony was aimed at discounting the prosecution's contention that Miss Reis hired three men to crack the safe of John B. Rich, a wealthy Pottsville coal operator, on Aug. 7, 1959, then used part of the money to purchase a night club where she once danced.

Two of the three men allegedly hired to crack the safe, Robert Poulson, 26, and John Berkery, 30, were convicted in the case last spring as was Ralph Staino Jr., 28, manager of Miss Reis' club.

A third alleged safecracker, Vincent Blaney, 26, was found shot to death in August 1960, in what police said was a gangland killing to keep him from turning state's evidence.

Blaney's brother, Richard, 27, who was the prosecution's star witness at the trials of the three who were convicted, was killed last summer by a bomb planted in his car. He was to have testified at the Reis trial.

In efforts to break down another prosecution contention that the burglars met at Miss Reis' Philadelphia home on Aug. 6, 1959, the defense called Irene Baldino, 24, a former dancer at the club.

Mrs. Baldino said she spent part of that day visiting with Miss Reis. While she was there, Mrs. Baldino testified, there were no visitors and Miss Reis made no telephone calls, although she received some.

The prosecution had tried to prove that Miss Reis on that day went to a telephone booth to phone Clyde (Bing) Miller, 55, who was ill in a Pottsville hospital.

Miller, accused of fingering the burglary, faces trial next, the last of the defendants. He testified at Miss Reis' trial that he lavished more than $100,000 in cash and gifts on her for the privilege of secretly meeting her twice a week.

not warrant undue public concern, nor initiation of public action designed to limit the intake of radioactive substances," Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said.

The service said its announcement was based on analysis of milk in six cities—New Orleans, La.; Atlanta, Ga.; Charleston, S.C.; Jackson, Miss.; Tampa, Fla., and St. Louis, Mo.

The Soviet Union resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1. Since then, according to President Kennedy's disclosure Wednesday at a news conference, the Soviet Union has fired more than 20 nuclear explosions into the atmosphere.

Iodine is a source of potential concern because physicians say extensive overdoses might result in cancer or other injury to the thyroid.

Three weeks ago, the top-level Federal Radiation Council cut sharply its recommended maximum safe limit on the intake of radioactive iodine 131. The cut was recommended particularly for the protection of children.

Under the old standard, a daily intake of up to approximately 1,300 micro-microcuries was considered acceptable. A micro-microcurie is a measure of radioactivity.

Under the council's newer recommendations, a range beginning as low as 100 micro-microcuries a day for a year is indicated as a possible danger point that would require the most stringent kinds of control. The council stressed the hazard to small children of concentrations of iodine 131 in their diets, particularly in milk.

In the period Sept. 20-29, the health service said, the highest iodine measurements for each of the six cities were:

New Orleans, 530 micro-microcuries per liter (1,056 quarts) in milk collected on Sept. 25; Atlanta, 320, Sept. 25; Charleston, 270, Sept. 22; Jackson, Miss., 460, Sept. 27; Tampa, 140, Sept. 22, and St. Louis, 500, Sept. 27.
